Paris Shells Raiders

PARIS (AP)—Anti-aircraft fire was heard in the southwestern outskirts of Paris tonight.

Secret Sitting

WELLINGTON (CP-Reuters)—The New Zealand House of Representatives met today in its first secret sitting in history to discuss the war.

Enrol No Veterans

OTTAWA (CP)—A suggestion that a battalion composed entirely of veterans of the first Great War be formed for the 2nd or 3rd Division, Canadian Active Service Force, was rejected by Defence Minister Rogers in the Commons this afternoon.

Praise for British

LONDON (AP)—President Albert Lebrun of France in a message to the King this evening declared the heroism of the British army, fleet and air force was "the admiration of their French brothers in arms."

Gen. Fagalde Honored

PARIS (AP)—General Marie Bertrand Alfred Fagalde, 58, one of the heroes of Dunkerque in the great Allied retreat from France, was raised today to a Grand Officer of the Legion of Honor on recommendation by General Maxime Weygand. This is the Legion's highest honor.

Paris Police Rearm

PARIS (AP)—Paris police are exchanging for modern repeaters or machine guns the old-fashioned rifles with which they were armed hastily a few days ago. This is part of an accelerated campaign for preparedness against possible parachutists and fifth columnists.

Success Predicted

LONDON (CP)—Successful Allied evacuation of Dunkerque was described as "a most hopeful augury for the future success of the Allied armies" in a message received by the British government tonight from Prime Minister Peter Fraser of New Zealand.

Quick Deportation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Without debate, the House of Representatives this afternoon passed and sent to the Senate a bill providing for prompt deportation of aliens engaged in espionage or sabotage for a foreign government or who have been convicted of a felony.

Aliens Rounded Up

SYDNEY, Australia (CP-Reuters)—A large number of aliens, mostly Germans, were rounded up in Sydney today. Adoption of a more stringent policy by the government regarding internment of aliens was indicated.

Many Leave Istanbul

ISTANBUL (AP)—Turkey tonight ordered partial removal of citizens from Istanbul and adopted earlier emergency air raid precautions.
All persons from the provinces who have been living in Istanbul without regular employment will be removed to their former homes.

No Commons Aid For Capt. Ramsay

LONDON (CP)—Capt. Archibald Ramsay, Conservative member of Parliament arrested May 23 in a round-up of "fifth column" suspects, appealed in a letter read to the House of Commons today against his detention.
The letter, addressed to the Speaker of the House, protested that the arrest constituted "a grave violation of the privileges and vital rights of members of the House of Commons."

Ramsay, anti-Semitic president of the so-called "Right Club," was seized on order of the Home Secretary.
His letter said "no charge whatever" had been made against him during detention of nearly a fortnight.
After reading the letter to the House, the Speaker paused, but no member rose to comment and the House proceeded to the next business.

Lieut.-Gov. and Mrs. E. W. Hamber Donate $100,000

OTTAWA (CP)—Lieut.-Governor E. W. Hamber of British Columbia and Mrs. Hamber have donated $100,000 as a gift to the Canadian government for war purposes. Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced today.
"The Hamber gift is intended to assist the government in the heavy financial burdens which it has to bear at this time," the announcement said.

On May 30, His Honor wired the Prime Minister as follows:
"With the desire to assist the government, even in a very small degree in the heavy financial burdens ahead of it, may I, on behalf of Mrs. Hamber and myself, be permitted to offer as a donation to the government, for transmission to the appropriate department, the sum of $100,000, to be used immediately to the best advantage in furnishing our splendid Canadian fighting forces with the most urgently needed munitions of war and equipment."
"I make this offer in a spirit of humility, fully realizing its comparative insignificance, yet with the desire to express in a tangible way what we know to be the ardent wish and feelings of the people of this province to exert every effort to assist the Canadian government in the energetic prosecution of the war to ultimate victory."

The Prime Minister wired His Honor as follows:
"I have read your wire to my colleagues who join with me in thanks, on behalf of the government and people of Canada, to Mrs. Hamber and yourself for your heartening generosity and practical patriotism. The government would like immediately to make announcement of your splendid assistance to the cause of Canada and her Allies."

BRITAIN RUSHES PLANE OUTPUT

LONDON (CP)—Lord Beaverbrook, Minister for Aircraft Production, issued an urgent appeal today for "the fullest output this week and next."

"Work you do this week fortifies and strengthens the front of battle next week," Lord Beaverbrook said. "And make no mistake, in meeting the crisis we have none to rely on but our own energy and driving force. Britain stands or falls on her own resources."

The Ministry of Aircraft Production has instructed representatives in the United States to "investigate fully any proposal" Henry Ford might be able to make to the British government in connection with his recent assertion that his company could produce 1,000 aircraft daily within six months.

The disclosure of the inquiry was made today by the ministry's parliamentary secretary, J. J. Llewellyn.

VICTORIAN SAFE FROM DUNKERQUE

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Bapty, 1040 Pemberton Road, received word this morning, that their son, Dr. Leonard Bapty, a lieutenant in the R.A.M.C. in France, has been safely evacuated from Dunkerque, and is now in camp in England.

Dr. Bapty was educated at the Boys' Central School and Victoria High School here and received his medical degree at the University of Aberdeen, in Scotland. He then studied surgery in London and Liverpool and joined the R.A.M.C. about six months ago, receiving the rank of lieutenant. He is 28.

His father, Dr. Walter Bapty, was with the Medical Corps and Field Ambulance of the C.E.F. during the last war and transferred to become a Company Commander of the 2nd C.M.R. He was wounded several times.

$148,474 War Work Fund

VANCOUVER (CP)—Blair M. Clerk, director of Vancouver's $200,000 united war work fund, announced this afternoon that total collections from 19,905 subscribers had reached $148,474.

Azad Condemned

LONDON (AP)—Mahomed Singh Azad, 37-year-old Indian engineer, was convicted today and sentenced to death for the fatal shooting of Sir Michael O'Dwyer, retired Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab.

Kingham Takes Scots Command For Overseas

Col. J. R. Kingham will lead the 1st Battalion Canadian Scottish in the 7th Infantry Brigade in the Third Division of the Canadian Active Service Force. He will report to the rank of lieutenant-colonel.

The announcement came this morning from Brigadier C. V. Stockwell, officer commanding Military District No. 11 at Work Point.

LT.-COL. J. R. KINGHAM

Lieut.-Col. Kingham's first act as he resumed charge of the unit was to announce a recruiting drive. Several hundred men will be required to bring the battalion up to war strength, he said.

First-class recruits are needed for the unit, from 19 to 35 years of age, and falling in A category. "We want to maintain the traditions of the regiment," he said, "and are looking for the best men we can find."

Lieut.-Col. Kingham succeeds Col. Roy Sargent in taking over the command of the first battalion which he formerly held from 1934 to 1938. Col. Sargent has been assigned to the second division. He has been active in the organization of the Canadian Scottish ever since it was reformed after the last war.

Appointment of other officers making up the complement for the overseas battalion will be made shortly.

Announcement was also made today of the officers for the Veterans' Home Guard. Capt. R. B. Longridge, who has been acting as auxiliary services officer, will have charge of the Victoria Company and Major C. E. Sweeney will take command of the Vancouver company. There are to be 250 veterans enlisted for each of these units.

PARIS (AP)—French military authorities claimed tonight they had sprung a trap on the Germans, catching their tanks in their newly-devised defence system.

This new defence system, along the Somme, was not described in detail.

The French communique tonight said:
"The battle engaged this morning was intensified in the regions of Amiens, Peronne and Allette. The adversary used important forces, especially of tanks and aviation."

"In general their attacks were checked. Our troops even when passed by tanks are resisting energetically at the support points. They are occupying and maintaining their positions."

French Airplanes Blast Many Points

"Great activity of our aviation in the last 24 hours."

"Our bombers attacked by night important factories at Munich and Ludwigshafen, as well as the station of Mannheim."

"Important fires were seen during these expeditions."

"Several stations and airfields also were hit."

"Exploiting information furnished by our reconnaissances, our bombers, and pursuit planes furnished today, from the start of the attack, support for the land troops."

A military spokesman said as night fell that French positions were holding all along the line.

against tank assaults launched in the new German offensive, which extends from the sea end for more than 100 miles.

The major Nazi drives were directed against Amiens, Peronne and the Allette Canal.

Earlier authorized sources had said the French armies were holding everywhere against the German offensive on the Somme and Aisne Rivers with the exception of a few points where "they may fall back to more favorable positions."

This operation "will be nothing to worry about," the same sources added. The French infantry, as late as 2 p.m. (5 a.m. P.S.T.) was stated to be holding solidly on the Somme. Nearly 2,000,000 men were engaged in the battle.

During the afternoon the semi-official Telefrance Agency, commenting on the new German offensive, said "the only thing certain is the direction, which is implied by the attacks: The lower Seine and Paris are the objectives sought."

Reynaud Foretells Success for Allies

Premier Reynaud declared the Allies "can hope for a favorable issue of the struggle" launched today with the new German drive toward Paris.

The premier laid information from the Aisne-Somme front before the army committee of the Chamber of Deputies during the day.

A communique issued after the committee meeting said M. Reynaud had told the deputies that France "has decided to fight to the end with her British ally for the liberty of the world."

The premier gave a survey of operations since the beginning of the war, with special attention to the conditions in which the great Allied retreat from Flanders was carried out. He paid a tribute "to the heroism of our troops and the morale of the French nation."

No Bridgehead For Nazi Forces
LONDON (CP)—Military sources tonight said "certain armored vehicles" of the German army are on both sides of Amiens, although not very close to the French-held town itself.

The same source said German elements were south of the Somme, but not enough of them to form a bridgehead for an invading army.

NAZI REPORT
BERLIN (AP)—The German high command tonight claimed the "Weygand Line" across northern France had been broken at several points in German thrusts toward Paris and Le Havre, after the Somme had been crossed.

The high command claimed that Nazi columns crossed between the mouth of the Somme River and the town of Ham and forced another dent in the French defence along the Oise-Aisne Canal.

R.A.F. Destroys German Oil, Wrecks Rail Lines, Bombs Essen

LONDON (CP)—An air ministry communique tonight said:

"During last (Tuesday) night heavy bombers of the Royal Air Force again attacked military objectives in Germany."

"Oil refineries and oil fuel depots in the Ruhr and elsewhere were subjected to intensive bombing attacks. One of our aircraft is missing."

"An aircraft of the coastal command, returning from offensive reconnaissance over Scandinavia, intercepted and shot down a Dornier flying boat."

Heavy Toll Taken In Wide Raids

An Air Ministry bulletin amplifying the earlier statement, said that while the Germans were raiding Le Havre, last night, "strong forces of British bombers ranged over northwest Germany, setting oil storage plants ablaze and wrecking rail communications at numerous centres from Dortmund in the north to Mannheim in the south."

"Frankfurt, Duesseldorf, Cologne and Essen were among the great German cities that heard the drone of British airplanes during the night, followed by reports of bursting bombs."

Four hundred high explosive and incendiary bombs were dropped on a large oil storage depot at Frankfurt-on-Main, it was stated.

Death for 4 Spies

PARIS (AP)—Charles Julien Masson, former captain of the French Air Corps, and three other men were sentenced today to death on charges of operating a spy ring that dealt with French aviation secrets.

The military court said it was due to Masson's activities before the war that the Germans were able to bomb French airports with comparative ease.

The others sentenced are Otto Hans Weill, German traveling man; Rene Spieth and Raymond Verdague, mechanic.

Grandson to Roosevelt

BOSTON (AP)—President Roosevelt became a grandfather again today when a seven-pound nine-ounce son was born to Mrs. Anne (Clark) Roosevelt, wife of

"Direct hits were registered on an extensive oil storage plant at Mannheim," the bulletin added.

The first bombs were dropped before midnight and the following aircraft completed destruction of the plant. The "flames" reddened the sky and being visible to aircraft crews flying more than 100 miles away from the scene of the vast conflagration."

Assembly Points Targets of Fliers

Railway communications over a wide area in Germany were successfully attacked and "important marshalling yards near Essen, Duesseldorf and Wesel were heavily bombed."

One British raider flying over Germany in the early hours of this morning found the Oldbroek airfield lit up and night flying in progress. The base was "promptly attacked."

In face of intense opposition through the raids "several of our aircraft suffered minor damage. All but one, however, returned safely to their bases," the bulletin concluded.

Friedrichshafen Bombed By Allies

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—Allied warplanes early today bombed Friedrichshafen, and other objectives on the German side of Lake Constance and across the Swiss border.

GET NO BAIL

MONTREAL (CP)—Chief Justice Gustave Archambault today adjourned until June 12 the preliminary hearing of 11 members of the National Unity Party, Fascist organization, on charges preferred under the Defence of Canada Regulations.

The 11, including Adrian Arcand, party leader, were denied bail and were sent back to the Montreal jail until their next appearance in court. They include also Joseph C. Farr, Ontario organizer, and John Lorimer of Toronto.

Animals at Dunkerque

LONDON (CP)—Left behind on the beaches of Dunkerque is a pathetic army of dogs, cats and horses, late-comers in the Allied retreat.

dentally dropped six bombs on the Swiss side of the border. Houses and a road were damaged between the Swiss towns of Kreuzlingen and Tagerwilen, but there were no casualties.

On the German side of the frontier sirens were heard in cities on the shores of the lake, including Konstanz, Germany's only city on the left bank of the Rhine.

Anti-aircraft fire spurted from German batteries and bombs exploded at several points on the German side.

Friedrichshafen is best known as the home of Germany's famous Zeppelins. Airplane engines are manufactured there.

RAID ON FRANCE

PARIS (AP)—An area in central France was bombed today by German planes.

"Various objectives" were hit by the enemy raiders, semi-official reports said, after the alarm had been sounded from 1.20 p.m. to 3.05 p.m.

6 Nazi Planes Bagged By French

PARIS (AP)—The French reported six of 20 raiding German planes were shot down over northwestern France today.

The first wave of bombers came over simultaneously with the opening of the dawn German land offensive against the Somme. Anti-aircraft fire was heard again a few hours later, indicating a second attack.

Given Air Trophy

OTTAWA (CP)—Tribute to the activities of the Canadian Flying Clubs Association in advancing the cause of aviation in Canada, in an effective but unostentatious manner, "without glamour and acclaim," was paid today by Air Minister C. G. Power in presenting this year's McKee Trophy, Canada's highest aviation award, to President M. A. Seymour, St. Catharines, Ont.

The trophy is awarded annually to the person considered to have made the greatest contribution to the advancement of flying. Philip Johnson held the trophy last year in trust for Trans-Canada Airlines.

Reynaud on Air

PARIS (AP)—Premier Reynaud will broadcast tomorrow at 8 p.m. (11 a.m. P.S.T.).

Dominion-Provincial Agreement

Canada Ready to Receive British, French Children

OTTAWA (CP)—Plans have been completed for fullest co-operation between Canadian organizations in receiving and placing throughout the Dominion thousands of refugee and British children when the British and French governments are agreeable to their movement. Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Mines and Resources, announced today.

The agreement for co-operation between the Dominion, the provinces and child welfare and other organizations was reached at the Dominion-provincial conference here yesterday and Monday, when the whole refugee children problem was considered. The conference was called by Mr. Crerar and all the provinces were represented.

Associated in the deliberations were some technical advisers of the child and other welfare agencies which will work with the provinces and immigration authorities in the reception, placement and aftercare of the children.

FAMILY RECORDS

The immigration branch, in connection with the selection abroad of children, will obtain all family particulars so as to ensure the retention of identity of children, this being essential should they later return to their own people.

The Department of Pensions and National Health will look after medical examination overseas and health supervision in transit, including the train journey in Canada. Provincial authorities and social agencies will co-operate in immediate action at receiving centres to which children will be forwarded from ocean ports.

The plan visualizes distribution as quickly as possible after arrival so that children can be restored to normal life in private homes. The accomplishment of this task calls for the closest co-operation between the Dominion government and the nine provinces, the announcement said.

PROVINCIAL CONTROL

The provinces will be the responsible authority within their areas of jurisdiction. All along the line locally, provincially and nationally, the voluntary welfare services have declared readiness to help to the fullest extent of their ability in the task of distributing and settling the thousands of children likely to be brought to Canada.

The minister said the real refugee problem at the moment is in France and that there are difficulties in reaching children there. He said, however, the situation might change in a few days and he was anxious to have all plans completed for the prompt movement of children when possible and that these plans should be worked out so there would be no delay, confusion or handicap in having children placed in suitable homes in Canada.

Those who attended the conference will report to their respective authorities.

DISCUSSION SPEEDED
LONDON (CP)—Geoffrey Shakespear, Under-Secretary for Dominion Affairs, stated in the House of Commons today that the question of evacuating children from the United Kingdom to Canada and Australia was receiving urgent consideration and that he hoped to make a statement on the subject at an early date.

Battle Covers 125-mile Front

By AXEL de HOLSTEIN
PARIS (CP-Havas)—A great German offensive, with infantry moving forward after dive bombers and heavy artillery had prepared the way, was launched at 4 a.m. today along more than 125 miles of the western front.

Departing from the tactics used in their drive through the Low Countries and their break through the extension of the Maginot Line to the Channel coast, the Nazis appeared not to be using motorized units this time as the spearhead of their assault. French military spokesmen said that up to 10 this forenoon no enemy tank formations had been seen in action anywhere along the front.

The main points of attack were in the vicinity of Amiens, where the Germans held a bridgehead on the south bank of the Somme River, and east of the Oise on the Ailette Canal, below the famous heights of the Chemin des Dames, scene of some of the most bitter combats of the first Great War and of battles in centuries past.

Violent Duel
Of Artillery

The new German push opened when heavy artillery began pounding French defence positions. In the dawn light German tanks—dive bombers—began mass attacks on the French lines. Immediately afterward huge bodies of infantry began to move.

The morning staff communiqué said: "All information received from the front during the early hours of the day indicates that a new battle has begun. A violent effort by the enemy was concentrated until now upon the sea and the Laon-Soissons road."

The battle was begun just one day after Germany had proclaimed the formal end of the Battle of Flanders in the Nazi victory—just one day after the Flanders incident was closed with evacuation of the last Allied troops from Dunkerque.

It seemed to confirm advance reports that Adolf Hitler after occupying the former Allied pocket in Flanders would make a great drive against the heart of France rather than first against Britain.

BOMBERS BUSY

The air ministry announced that Allied bombers had struck back in retaliation for the raid on the Paris area Monday when 254 persons died, and for new Nazi forays over the Rhine Valley and the port of Le Havre.

Striking deep into Germany, French planes were reported to have bombed "with great success" military objectives in the vicinity of Munich and Frankfurt, 220 and 140 miles respectively from the frontier.

Airdrops, railway lines and munitions factories were shown with bombs in the raids, according to the air ministry. Among the important objectives said to have been hit was a large airplane motor factory. All the French planes returned.

At the same time Britain's Royal Air Force was reported to be bombing the Ruhr Valley, where German war industries are concentrated heavily.

Troops From Flanders In Allied Army
Units of the northern Allied armies which were evacuated through Dunkerque early in the retreat from Flanders were already in position along the Somme-Aisne front before the new German push started.

Some British units which did not go into Belgium with the rest of the B.E.F. also were reported in the front line of the Somme defence.

The Laon-Soissons road forms the right hand side of a quadrilateral on the east of the Oise River where the attack was possibly the strongest. This zone is marked by the towns of Laferre and Laon, Antz le Chateau and Chauny.

Except for the dive-bombers, the attack was launched in the classic style more reminiscent of 1918 than of the more recent German drives. French military quarters, however, said intervention of the armored divisions used with such effect in the north was expected before long.

Another notable fact was that this attack was not preceded by massive aerial attacks on the Allied rear, near and remote, as was the case consistently in Poland, in Norway and in the Low Countries and Flanders.

LINE MADE BY FRENCH
The new battlefront was established by the French following the German breakthrough in the north. Parts of it were won back from the German advanced units after hard fighting and at heavy cost, especially at the Somme bridgeheads.

French defensive preparations had been made in depth and these were facilitated to an important degree by the topographical features of the area which must form the first German objectives.

The western section of the 200-mile Somme-Aisne front extends, roughly from the Somme estuary, obstacle to the German advance. The Somme valley is fairly narrow but is swampy. The river's course itself is paralleled as far as Abbeville by a deep canal. A week ago the French successfully secured a foothold on the north bank and established complete control of all the outlets south of Abbeville.

The southern side of the valley region behind this slope is dotted with small forests favorable to anti-tank defence.

South of the Somme the course of the Bresle River from Eu to Aumale forms a sort of natural ditch running eastward.

To the south it is paralleled by a series of other small rivers—the Yonne, Euphrate, Bethune and still smaller streams—all of which are bordered, like the Bresle, by heavy forests. These wooded areas are impenetrable to aerial observation with their heavy early summer growth.

French Hold Station,
Road and Bridge

In the region of Amiens the situation is less simple. There the Germans hold a small bridgehead on the south bank of the Somme. There has never been precise information on this point. It has been known only that the French control the important railway station of Longueau, a suburb southeast of Amiens, and the road and railway bridge crossing the swamps formed by the confluence there of the Somme and the Noye River. The road and railway run directly into the city of Amiens.

Along the entire course of the middle and upper Somme above Amiens to the point where the Crozat Canal enters the river, French troops were engaged in strengthening their positions while the Battle of Flanders and the evacuation from Dunkerque were in progress. This process was especially intense in the region of Peronne and Ham, where bridgeheads were taken and the terrain organized in depth as fast as it was reconquered from the Germans.

CANAL SYSTEM
In this region between the Somme and the Oise, however, the system of canals linking the Seine and Oise basin to the hydrographic system of the north is like a line of water. The Oise itself is along the line of fire only for a short distance.

It was on the right bank of the Oise, however, that the Germans this morning launched one of their principal attacks, Nazi infantry debouching from the heights of the Coucy Forest along the Ailette Canal. The Ailette is a small river converted into a canal to link the Aisne canal to the Oise canal. It will come up against the defences on the Aisne.

Fascists Claim
French Shot Italians
ROME (CP)—A Stefani (Italian) news agency dispatch from Brussels, published in the Fascist press today, alleged that French troops executed seven Italians and Belgians after they had been convicted of espionage by a court-martial.

The victims were reported to have been part of a group, which included women and children, who were allegedly lined up against a wall for summary execution. This, according to the dispatch, was postponed at the last minute pending the court-martial, which then passed the death sentence.

Caucus Hears Mr. King
OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King today addressed a caucus of his supporters in the House of Commons and Liberal appointees in the Senate, advising them of the heavy responsibilities placed on all public men by the war.

The Prime Minister said, at its conclusion, that it had been a harmonious "family gathering" at which the problems created by the war were discussed freely.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Police today sought thieves who broke into the Vancouver Photo Supply Shop here last night and stole cameras valued at $745.

Hitler Drives His Hordes Again

German forces are testing the French today on a 125-mile front along the Somme River with Amiens as one of the main points of attack. The above map gives an idea of the territory recently taken by Germany, the entire western front and the cities of Lyon and Marseille, which have been a target for Nazi bombers this week. The two arrows, near Lyon, indicate the Alpine passes between France and Italy.

Just Missed Big Battle

Canadian Units Ready to Fight

By EDWIN JOHNSON

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (CP)—Units of the First Canadian Division missed active participation in the heroic Allied defence of the Channel ports against the German masses last week by a matter of five minutes.

This fact was disclosed today with the release of partial details of a special mission recently entrusted to Major-General A. G. L. McNaughton, commander of the First Division, which brought him and a select group of his officers and other ranks under their baptism of fire on the western front in this war.

Although the expedition was launched during the height of the German westward push toward the sea, its nature and scope were not revealed earlier due to considerations of security.

Thus only those within the inner councils were aware that the Dominion's number one general was on special reconnaissance in the battle zone and that Canada's men stood poised, ready to move into action at a moment's notice. The order for the Canadians' "kick-off" was withdrawn, however, for tactical reasons within five minutes of the deadline and the units concerned assigned to other duties.

FROM VANCOUVER ISLAND

Accompanying the G.O.C. on his secret visit to the front were Lieut-Colonel G. R. Turner, general staff officer (first grade); Lieut. Ernest G. Magnus, Montreal, and Captain Jean Lafontaine and Lieut. G. Payette, both of Montreal, who went as interpreters. There were also the following members of the First Division provost company: Eric Porter, Edmonton; G. W. Mudge, Cobble Hill, Vancouver Island, B.C., and D. Henzie, Regina.

From the time the party left England until the urgent mission was completed it was constantly harassed by the enemy. On the voyage across the Channel and on reaching its destination the warship carrying the Canadians was attacked several times. Bombs and parachute mines were dropped around the ship, its decks were sprayed with machine-gun bullets while high explosive shells, from German batteries crashed nearby after the group had reached shore.

The entire party came through the experience unscathed, but the attacks cost the Germans the loss of three airplanes.

During the disembarkation a heavy enemy bombardment was unleashed on the town, sending refugees streaming to the shore in the hope of finding an outgoing vessel, or crowding into highways leading to areas still in Allied hands.

Nazi air squadrons roared over at intervals, often dropping bombs without apparent objective. Other bombers concentrated on the docks, setting warehouses and other buildings ablaze.

Occasionally planes dived low to machine-gun ships tied up in the harbor, or to take bewildered citizens rushing for shelter.

While the Canadian officers were proceeding to another port their ship was again attacked by an enemy aircraft which had spotted it in brilliant moonlight. It dropped a parachute mine which exploded about 20 feet to starboard of the ship. A British fighter patrol engaged the German and sent it crashing into the Channel after a brisk encounter.

EXPLORED GROUND

Accompanied by Lieut-Col. Turner, Gen. McNaughton explored the territory where the Allied forces were putting up stout resistance against the Germans. He explored the approaches and the topography of the terrain where it had been planned to land his men and conferred with Allied commanders and staff officers, all the while keeping a flow of reports moving to his base of operations.

At one point a telephone call was put in for London, but it was discovered the line passed through territory held by the enemy and that the Channel was tapped. British authorities were advised of the situation and the G.O.C. would return as quickly as possible to make a personal report.

On their way back to port the Canadian party traveled through debris-filled streets, with haversacks on all sides. Many buildings were still burning or smouldering.

At the quayside stood a forlorn group of refugees. Many of them had been on the road for more than 10 days and had walked themselves into a state of exhaustion. They had lost all their worldly possessions except the small bundles of clothing they carried on their backs or under their arms.

At the request of British and French officials, the most distressed cases were ordered into a naval pinnace with the general's party and headed for a destroyer waiting for the officers.

Before the ship reached the comparative safety of home waters, enemy airplanes dived low with machine-guns wide open. While Gen. McNaughton and Lieut-Col. Turner were busy completing their report, Lieut. Magnus lay prone on his stomach in the chairroom near the captain's bridge, relaying messages as bullets hit the deck like a shower of hail.

Two more German planes attacked the ship with bombs and machine-guns and both were sent spinning into the sea as a result of accurate fire of the destroyer's guns and shore batteries. Immediately the G.O.C. landed on English soil he conferred with staff officers at the port and then sped away in his Ontario-licensed car for London, where he submitted his report to the War Office.

With the Forces

Appointments For Local Men

At Ottawa today appointments were announced affecting Victoria officers.

Major T. A. H. Taylor is named deputy assistant adjutant-general for District No. 11. He has been recruiting officer for the district. Lieut-Col. H. R. W. Allan becomes deputy assistant quartermaster-general for this district. Other Ottawa appointments affect officers at points overseas and in the Dominion.

Lieut-Col. J. K. K. Lawson, formerly of Toronto, is appointed director of military training and staff duties, at defence headquarters, Ottawa, with the rank of colonel. He succeeds Col. J. C. Murchie, recently appointed director of military operations and intelligence, succeeding Col. Maurice Pope, who was transferred to Canadian Military headquarters in London.

Col. G. P. Loggie of Ottawa, assistant quartermaster-general of the Ordnance on the same staff, becomes deputy quartermaster-general with the rank of brigadier.

Major M. H. S. Penhale of Ottawa, deputy assistant adjutant-general at London headquarters, becomes assistant adjutant-general with the rank of lieutenant-colonel.

Lieut-Col. N. B. MacDonald, Ottawa senior supply and transport officer at London headquarters, is appointed assistant quartermaster-general.

Major E. A. Anglin of Ottawa, deputy assistant adjutant-general for Military District No. 3, Kingston, is appointed to the same post in the branch of the adjutant-general at Ottawa.

Major C. L. Laurin also comes to Ottawa as deputy assistant adjutant-general. He formerly was district record officer, M.D. No. 4, Montreal.

9 Hospital Ships
Attacked by Nazis

LONDON (CP)—Sir Victor Warrender, Admiralty financial secretary, told the House of Commons today that nine British hospital ships have been bombed, shelled or machine-gunned by the Germans despite their unmistakable markings.

The only sinking, he said, was that of the hospital carrier Paris on June 2, which was the victim of three separate waves of bombers.

The hospital carrier Brighton was holed and run aground, and the hospital carrier Maid of Kent was set afire.

Nazi Communiques
Universally Discredited

LONDON (CP)—Alfred Duff Cooper, Minister of Information, replying to a question in the House of Commons today as to why the ministry "continually issued German official communiques containing false claims," said: "It has not been the policy to prevent publication of these communiques, the falsity of which has so often been proved that they are now universally discredited."

He added that any change in policy "might be misinterpreted in this country and elsewhere."

BRITAIN SPEEDS
TRAINING OF FLIERS

LONDON (CP)—Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary for Air, told the House of Commons today that the flying and training organization of the Royal Air Force is being expanded "on a considerable scale" to meet "all further requirements."

He stated a large number of training schools "have already been or are in the process of being established overseas in countries most suitable to the purpose."

Sir Archibald said he had no knowledge of any "understanding" whereby Great Britain "should not bomb military objectives in Germany until they were bombed."

The Royal Air Force, he said, had made "a number of successful attacks against military objectives in Germany."

PARIS (AP)—Belgian General Legros reported to Belgian Defence Minister Henri Deniis here today that about 45,000 Belgian soldiers joined the Allied forces in Flanders after King Leopold's capitulation.

Germans to Mine North of Great Slave

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—S. G. Blacklock, president and managing director of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Ltd., announced yesterday 23 German employees of the Trail plants were being transferred to the area north of the Great Slave Lake in the Northwest Territories to carry on prospecting work for the company.

The men were advised they could not continue working in the Trail plants and were made the offer to go north in order to make sure they would not be a menace to the operations in Trail; that they would not become a charge on the authorities, and that they could do useful work for the British Empire and at the same time look after themselves and their families.

All but one accepted cheerfully and left last night in charge of W. G. Jewitt, general superintendent of the company's operations in the N.W.T. area.

'It Was Magnificent'

U.S. Reacts Warmly To Churchill Speech

NEW YORK (CP)—"It was magnificent,"

The New York Times thus warmly commended today Prime Minister Churchill's address in the House of Commons yesterday in which he acknowledged Great Britain had suffered a military disaster in the Battle of Flanders but declared in ringing terms that Britain would never surrender.

"It took moral heroism to tell the story," said the Times. "Any one of smaller calibre would have tried to minimize the German victory. . . . In its proud defiance against odds, Mr. Churchill's speech was as brave in its way as the stand of the British army on the blood-soaked shore at Dunkerque."

The Herald-Tribune also praised the speech and Mr. Churchill. Remarking that he "possesses a weapon of attack which has perhaps no equal among living men—this gift of words," the newspaper said Mr. Churchill's closing words "will surely rank among the noblest utterances in the annals of English statesmanship."

SENATORS APPROVE

WASHINGTON (CP)—The declaration of Prime Minister Churchill that Great Britain never would surrender and would fight on even if the British Isles were subjugated was warmly acclaimed in some congressional circles here.

Chairman Key Pittman of the Senate foreign relations committee called Mr. Churchill's statement to the House of Commons "the most encouraging proposed action on behalf of the British government that has come to the attention of the United States since the invasion of Holland."

"Churchill's assurance that Great Britain will never surrender even if the British Isles are subjugated and will continue the war against Hitler from Canada, substantially guarantees the western hemisphere against successful attack for a long period of time, at least," Pittman declared.

BRITISH PRESS

LONDON (CP)—Papers rang out a resounding "well done" in editorials today in praise of Prime Minister Churchill's speech to the House of Commons yesterday.

They were particularly pleased that Mr. Churchill told the harsh truths of the glorious Flanders episode.

The Times of London said: "The proud peroration of the Prime Minister's speech breathed the spirit of Shakespeare's England. Whatever happens the Englishmen and Frenchmen of Great Britain and France are unconquerable."

The London Daily Express said: "Mr. Churchill does not conceal the facts about the military disaster and the losses of our material and our defensive lines. He does not attempt to minimize the threat to our shores. But he also establishes the failure for the first time of Hitler's massed might to carry out its will."

EFFECT IN U.S.

The Liverpool Post said Mr. Churchill's visualizing the possibility of a long and continued struggle which might lead to the new world setting out to rescue the old may be a distant view, "but we can imagine Mr. Churchill's reference to it as having a marked effect in America."

The London Daily Mail declared: "Mr. Churchill correctly gauges the spirit and backbone of his countrymen. We want the truth, good or bad—and here it is. The heroic achievements of our fighting men equally with our own grim situation, will inspire the British people to fight on."

Currency Charge

CLOVERDALE, B.C. (CP)—Andrew Simick of New Westminster, a Czechoslovakian, today faced a charge of attempting to evade exchange control board regulations by taking $2,700 in Canadian currency out of the country without a permit. Police said he would appear in police court next Monday.

The charge was laid against Simick late yesterday after he had been intercepted by Royal Canadian Mounted Police near the international boundary just south of here.

To Move Prisoners

OTTAWA (CP)—Transfer of prisoners from jails in the Yukon and Northwest Territories to jail in neighboring provinces is envisioned in an amendment to the Penitentiaries Act given first reading in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon.

Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Justice Minister, explained that lock-ups in those territories became congested at times, creating "much embarrassment." Jails there, too, were rather primitive. This bill, Mr. Lapointe said, authorized negotiations with the provinces so convicts only under jail and not penitentiary sentences could be sent to provincial jails at Dominion expense.

Prairie Man Fined

For Nazi Salute

SASKATOON (CP)—The Saskatchewan Department of Education will check up on circumstances surrounding the conviction of 22-year-old Roy Laventure, school teacher near Glenside, under the Defence of Canada Regulations. He was fined $25 at Hanley Monday.

Laventure was charged with giving the Nazi salute and uttering the words "Heil Hitler" in a Hanley beer parlor. Jack Musgrove took the teacher to task for his action and Corp. J. Lunney of the Saskatoon Light Infantry at Dundurn intervened to prevent any further trouble. Laventure later said he had apologized to Musgrove, saying that he "didn't mean anything" by it. He added that he had a brother-in-law in the army and one in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Big Gas Reserve

Now in Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Reserves of high-grade aviation gasoline in Canada "now are very substantially in excess of the Royal Canadian Air Force and air training plan requirements during the coming year," according to the Department of Munitions and Supply.

The reserves have been built up voluntarily by oil companies and the capacity of Canadian oil refineries is sufficient to take care of the expanding needs of R.C.A.F. and the air training plan in 1941 and 1942.

Heroes of Calais Historic Units

LONDON (CP)—The immortal band of heroes that includes the men of Thermopylae and those who held the pass at Killcrankie has been joined by 3,000 Britains and 1,000 French whose four-day defence of Calais Prime Minister Churchill described in the House of Commons yesterday in stirring, simple words.

With a British tank battalion, units whose names are hallmarks of valor in British military history participated.

They were the Rifle Brigade, the 60th Rifles and the Queen Victoria Rifles.

The 60th Rifles originally raised in America in 1755 were called the Royal Americans for many years and served under General Wolfe at Louisbourg and Quebec.

Sent to Calais to hold the port, the 20th century "Royal Americans" were also told to maintain communication with the British Expeditionary Force. They found the latter task impossible in the face of the German mechanized push—but they held Calais.

For four days they fought unceasingly, repulsing the strongest German attacks despite continuous destructive bombardment from the air and by land artillery.

They occupied large German forces who otherwise would have been turned upon the B.E.F. in its rearguard action.

Water and ammunition were dropped to them by daring Royal Air Force pilots who came low in the face of anti-aircraft fire.

The Queen Victoria Rifles were formed 137 years ago as the Duke of Cumberland's Sharpshooters.

The Rifle Brigade, formed as an experiment in 1800, participated at Corunna and fired the first shots at Waterloo.

Steady Progress Made By Commons

OTTAWA (CP)—Stirring news of the steps taken by Canada in the last few days to aid Britain and France directly at this critical moment shared the limelight in the House of Commons yesterday with criticism from two new members of Parliament—a C.C.F. Nova Scotian and Saskatchewan's lone Unity representative—of conditions on the home front.

The Prime Minister's statement opened another day of solid business during which final reading was given a bill extending the Trans-Canada Air Lines "initial period," by which an increase in air mail carrying charges would be avoided, and a bill placing customs and excise appointments under the Civil Service Commission. Each bill opened up wide discussion of administrative details.

The annual unemployment and farm distress relief bill brought considerable discussion.

A charge that Nova Scotia mining operators were taking advantage of the war and war regulations to retard negotiations with miners' unions and creating conditions which might lead to an industrial war was made by Clarence Gillis, C.C.F., Cape Breton South. He said that "in the mining and steel industry from Ontario to Cape Breton there is not a section of the workers but are at war with the operators at the present time," attempting to obtain collective bargaining.

Mines were being closed down in Cape Breton and ghost towns being created by reason of methods adopted by the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation, which was the "real government" of Nova Scotia so far as coal was concerned, Mr. Gillis declared.

WAR FUNDS

Activities of Parliament during recent days would mean a lowered standard of living for the common people, said Mrs. Dorise Nielsen, Unity, North Battleford, Sask. She said the government's method of raising the $700,000,000 voted for war purposes this year would mean additional taxation to be borne by the masses.

"Whatever happens in Europe or whatever we do in this House, there are thousands of people who are faced daily with the one great question—'When do we eat and how?' " Mrs. Nielsen said.

In the past, whenever the government had been asked to assist the distressed people the reply had been there was no money. But when the war came it was possible to appropriate $700,000,000.

E. G. Hansell, New Democracy, Macleod, Alta., said the years of depression and industrial idleness were resulting in disappearance of many trained artisans such as pattern and tool makers. He suggested the youth training scheme be extended in scope to take in skilled trades of that type.

German Claims

BERLIN (AP)—Today's German high command communique:

"As already reported in special announcements, the fortress of Dunkerque was taken June 4 after a hard fight. Three generals and about 40,000 men of various French units surrendered to our victorious troops."

(This claim has not been confirmed from Allied sources.)

"Near Abbeville an enemy attack using strong artillery and tanks was repelled. Similarly an attack on our fighting vanguards south of Longwy founded with heavy losses for the enemy."

(These engagements were not reported in the French communique.)

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 5, 1940

A New Phase

ONE OF THE IMPORTANT FACTORS of the new phase of the war which began at dawn today is that the Germans were not able to use the element of surprise which gave them such a tremendous advantage in their attacks on Denmark and Norway and in their invasion of the Low Countries. With the exception of a preliminary artillery preparation that was accompanied by a furious onslaught of dive bombers, the opening hours of the attack were marked by tactics similar to those employed in the earlier and latter days of the first Great War. Masses of Nazi infantrymen were sent against the withering fire of French guns of all calibres; they are still cannon-fodder for the "glory" of the Fatherland. Hitler has told his regimented populace that their prayers will go with the troops as they press toward their one objective—the annihilation of the Allied armies.

It is one thing to have an objective and quite another to attain it. The line the enemy is now attacking is the one created under the supervision of General Weygand after he had summed up the general situation from the air. Admittedly, the preparation of his positions on such an elongated front may require certain adjustments as the weight and general disposition of the attack unfold, but official opinion at the French capital is far from pessimistic. Premier Reynaud, for example, issued a statement this afternoon intimating that the Allies "can hope for a favorable issue of the struggle" launched today. He and his military chiefs, of course, realize to the full all the possibilities and implications of this supreme effort on the part of the common enemy to eliminate one of democracy's defenders. M. Reynaud repeats, however, that France "has decided to fight to the end with her British ally for the liberty of the world."

Until this new phase of the conflict has assumed more definite proportions the hopes of the British and French leaders will have to provide us with most of our optimism. We know the truth of the situation in its general aspects. Mr. Churchill's epic speech in the House of Commons yesterday left nothing to the imagination. It bore out all his previous warnings and some of his fears. But he was able to enliven considerably his drab picture of conditions as they are with as magnificent and inspiring a narrative as the world has ever heard. But the Prime Minister is under no delusion; he knows the struggle will be a long and bitter one. But if he can be optimistic of the outcome, surely we, so far removed from the horror, can keep our chin up and do whatever is needed of us. No Hitler is going to crush the British or French empires.

Bombing Frankfurt

PARTICULAR INTEREST ATTACHES TO the French announcement of successful bombing in the neighborhood of Frankfurt-on-the-Main. Not only is this city the most important economic and cultural community in southwestern Germany, with a population of approximately 555,000, it is also notable for its huge Adler motor factories, its extensive dye works—this in the suburb of Hoechst—and large industries turning out machines of every description, in addition to metals, manufactured timber and leather goods. Its main railway station for many years has been considered one of the most important junctions in Europe and since Hitler assumed power in 1933 it has won its place as one of the largest.

Some of the Reich's newest and vital motor roads branch out in every direction from Frankfurt, while its airport is considered by experts as almost the last word in civilian and military usefulness, with dimensions—extended since the outbreak of war—commensurate with the city's reputation for air-mindedness. For it was here as far back as the summer of 1909 that a curious and still skeptical world attended the first international aircraft exhibition.

When we hear of bombings of Frankfurt-on-the-Main, therefore, it can be taken for granted that among the principal objectives of Allied airmen will be its airports—there are now probably several of them in the vicinity—and the huge motor establishments which are working the round of the clock in every form of mechanized equipment which is still vital to the Nazi high command. Railway networks, with important lines running northwest on both left and right banks of the Rhine, and the extensive system of motor roads will also attract the attention of British and French forces.

What a Funny Idea

SENATOR J. D. TAYLOR'S DAILY BRITISH Columbian of New Westminster has discovered that some people in the progressive city on the banks of the Fraser are drawing their funds from our chartered financial institutions because they fear Canada may eventually adopt some form of mobilizing the nation's supposedly idle money. As our contemporary quite properly argues, however, such action on the part of the individual is ludicrous to a degree, while from a national point of view it might easily become serious. Bank deposits, of course, are doing an exceedingly important job of work. They are an active service, figuratively dollars in uniform on 24-hour shifts. If there is any widespread assumption of "the government is not going to get my money" attitude, an authoritative statement from Ottawa might discourage any possible continuance of the practice of which the New Westminster daily speaks. What such depositors do with the money they withdraw we are not told, and are not likely to learn. But even in the present imperfect state of popular knowledge of economics, it should be obvious to all thinking people that paper currency is not wealth, and if confiscation of wealth should come it will not mean confiscation of bank deposits. Withdrawing what is commonly called money out of safe keeping and putting it in an old sock will not earn the owner anything, except the anxiety of protecting it while he still believes it is important.

Nervous ones in New Westminster, or elsewhere, would be well advised to buy War Savings Certificates if they must have something to hold and look at in substitution for the satisfaction of a monthly glance at a balance shown in a passbook. The credit of the whole of the Dominion stands behind every one of these baby bonds; and they earn 3 per cent interest, too. Surely Canada's guarantee ought to be good enough for most of us. The inference is obvious.

Brazil Beckons

THERE IS MORE LIVING-SPACE IN Brazil than in any other spot on the face of the globe. And Brazil seeks immigrants as the United States sought them a century ago and as Canada sought them at the beginning of this century. The Brazilian National Council of Immigration and Colonization is starting a plan to attract farmers from the American countries. A flood of requests for information has come from the United States, indicating that there are still some seekers after the frontier who are interested in pioneering. The frontier has shifted from the west to the north and south. Brazil, which used to admit only 85 immigrants a year from the United States, has now made that 3,000, and has also opened the gates to 100,000 Finns. The coming development of South America is beyond question. Like all frontiers, it will offer success to some, to others disappointment. But it is reassuring to see that many still have their eyes fixed on lands beyond the horizon.

Mussolini Still Hesitates

MANY PEOPLE WOULD LIKE TO know what Premier Mussolini intends to do. We are told the Allies are ready to deal with him as soon as Italy joins Germany in actual combat. Just what this means now, or what it may mean when a new front has been created, we are not permitted to know. What is patent to Britain and France and to all the neutral nations is that Il Duce to date has run a most diabolical political bluff. His program of nonbelligerency has kept British and French forces on tenterhooks ever since the beginning of the conflict. Italy's assistance to Germany, through her own technique alone, already has been of incalculable value. And while there is a disposition in many quarters to believe Mussolini may continue to hesitate, it is considered likely that if he should eventually decide to fight, the Allies will subject his country to a special "Blitzkrieg" of their own pattern.

There need be no sentiment about Italy; this is a war to the death between all that is foul and all that is decent. Mussolini, whose son thought it "great fun" to drop bombs on helpless Ethiopians, is Adolf Hitler's partner in the totalitarian program of brutalitarian brigandage. He was the blackmailer with whom Anthony Eden refused to deal 27 months ago—the same blackmailer who got his way at Munich and later welcomed Mr. Chamberlain to Rome to sign the "friendship" pact with which the present British Secretary of State for War would have nothing to do until Il Duce mended his ways. No tears will be wept, therefore, if every bomb dropped on Italy does not strike the precise military object at which it may be aimed. Italians, moreover, are not built like Germans—whom they loathe and abominate. The Italian populace "cracked" not a few times during the last war when they knew they were on the winning side. The Fascist Grand Council may decide to enter the conflict; it may not have much to say about an Italian "withdrawal."

Blind, Deaf and Dumb

From Le Jour, Montreal

There are not only honest men among us, there are criminals, bandits, racketeers, madmen. That is why, despite Hitlerian abominations, there are still Nazi propagandists and friends of Nazism in our province. We could name such an individual, who has already received considerable publicity, and continues to recruit freely for the Nazis and who gets paid fees so that he can live off this macabre "racket," the profession of traitors. We could lead our officers of the law and detectives to such and such a place, where they never cease to extol the virtues of Hitler and to sully the reputation of our allies, those very people with whom we are fighting for the safety of our institutions and our ideal.

Not only have thousands of enemy citizens been left completely free, who perhaps only are waiting for a signal to sabotage our industries, divulge our secrets and stab Canadians in the back, not only is there no fixed plan with respect to Italian Fascists who live in our midst and who, upon the intervention of Italy, will carry out their traitorous work among us, but some Canadians are permitted to form the "fifth column" in our country, this collection of blackguards, rats and racketeers, which Germany uses in every country, in order to subjugate or to massacre.

What good is it to maintain a censorship office, and to censor the news in the newspapers, if all the information, rumors and demoralizing stories are allowed to get out by means of agents, paid or otherwise, in Germany?

As I See It

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

BLOODY BUT UNBOWED

ONE OF THE MOST interesting things about life is to compare differing national characteristics. For while there are very wide differences between individuals everywhere, there are certain definite strains which run through those aggregations of peoples which have come to be called nations. The Scots are alleged to have certain qualities which, for instance, make it advisable to make a Scotsman treasurer of a society, or Chancellor of the Exchequer. The Irish have never been overly fond of governments—any governments—and if it were not for the serious consequences, I think the whole world would get a much-needed laugh over what would happen if Hitler were ever able to set up a vice-Fuehrer in Dublin. I can imagine the reaction of some of the Irish to the billboards which Hitler put up over Germany a few years ago: "You are nothing—the state is everything."

The English and the Germans are so unlike that I for one can never understand their supposed common origin. They are, of course, much more alike in their appearance than the French and English, but in their thinking they are as far apart as the poles. Actually, the Germans suffer from an inferiority complex, whereas the British have what the Scots have called a good conceit of themselves.

Napoleon remarked that the English never knew when they were beaten. That was supposed to be what the Americans call a real slam. Actually, the English took it as a great compliment, which it was. For it was the refusal to admit final defeat that created the world-wide legend that "England always loses every battle except the last one in the war."

ONE OF THE MOST illuminating aspects of English character is that the English tend to glorify their defeats (which are invariably called retreats) rather than their victories. Of what is the soldier of the last war most proud? Is it of having served in the last great series of attacks which sent the Germans running and reeling towards home? Not on your life. It is of having been in the Retreat From Mons—of having been one of the Old Contemptibles. What great military hero is still commemorated in every schoolbook? Sir John Moore, the general who led one of the most skillful retreats in history, and who had to be buried in the dead of night because the British were escaping from Spain as they escaped from Norway a few weeks ago, and from Flanders last week.

I have often laughed to myself when I thought what we British would have done had it been us and not the French who went to Moscow under Napoleon. Instead of the world picturing Napoleon's retreat from the Russian capital as the classic example of disaster, we British would have dramatized our withdrawal, and done it so sincerely and unconsciously that all the world would have agreed with us.

That is why I think that a turning point in this war may already have been reached. I am not under any illusions about the actual military position. But in the first real phase of the war, Hitler has done his worst. France is certainly not beaten, and already is beginning to display that amazing resiliency which has saved her many times before. And our own head is bloody but unbowed. In the words of that great American seaman, who is also honored by the British navy, "We have not yet begun to fight."

We can never be beaten, or stay beaten, as long as we believe that in our heart of hearts.

THINGS WE ENJOY

Fing of a keen-cutting razor;
Feel of a smooth pleasant shave,
Smell of a bright burning pine-log,
Glinting of sun on a wave;
Walking on grass in the summer,
Green of a well-tended lawn,
Mother-birds feeding their offspring,
Watching the glide of a swan.

Fountain pens—never they fail us—
Smelling a fragrant cigar;
Being of use to a stranger,
Showing the way for his car;
Wearing new shoes that don't pinch us,
Color of leaves in the fall;
Chirping of dozens of sparrows,
Nesting in old ivy wall.

Symphony concerts in winter,
Trill of canaries in song;
Skirling of pipes in the distance,
Sermons—that don't last too long;
Apple trees heavily laden,
Purple grapes ripe on the vine;
Watching a ploughman make furrows,
Keeping his plough in straight line.

Thrill of a keen game of hockey;
Rays of the sun when it sets;
Voices of children when bathing,
Watching boys play with their pets;
Soft clack at night when toll's ended,
Slippers that give our feet ease;
Then for the paper we are ready—
Columns that ne'er fail to please.

Heroes—Known to God

From Toronto Star

It has been said that every disaster brings to light the heroism inherent in mankind. Men and women whose bravery and resourcefulness would otherwise have remained unknown emerge from the hour of tragedy covered with the glory of self-sacrificing achievement. It needed but the flame of calamity to light the candles of their courage.

War is the greatest of all disasters. It is so great a disaster that it not only creates a great multitude of heroes, but hides most of them from view. There is, of course, a sense—a very real sense—in which every man who offers himself for his country is a hero. But there is a further heroism, the bravery and a self-forgetfulness of men in special circumstances which bring out their highest and noblest traits.

War tends, by its very vastness, to conceal much of this heroism from view. This is true to a unique degree of the greatest war in history, and the most terrible, which eclipses in its tragedy all other wars which have gone before. Out of this calamity, as out of lesser ones, emerges the heroism of mankind. Emerges the smoke of battle only a little can be seen. Only a fraction of the thousands upon thousands of heroic deeds are known, or ever will be known.

From time to time there will be mention of this hero and of that. And when the history of the great conflict comes to be written, many names will be engraved upon the scroll of fame. Many—but only a small proportion of that glamorous multitude over against which the name of "hero" could appropriately be written. To the naked eye there appear to be many stars. To a telescope, many more. To the greatest of telescopes, system beyond system in the infinity of space. And beyond all the individual heroes which the war will reveal, there will be innumerable others whose deeds the war will hide: Heroes—known to God.

In that British and French army fighting against fearful odds in Belgium and in France, what heroic individual deeds there must have been beyond all those which history will reveal. Men who, in ordinary life were peaceful, home-loving citizens, unused, most of them, to peril—faced never before, perhaps with the tragedy of existence amidst suffering and death—these men did not quail. They fought on amidst conditions such as no army has ever known. History will never hear of even a fraction of the instances of heroism and self-sacrifice which have marked their glorious retreat. But their memory will be held dear by the British Commonwealth forever. "Their name liveth forevermore."

THE UGLY MICROBE
The doctor had overhauled his patient.
"You confess that you are bad-tempered," he said. "I suppose you know that science has discovered that your bad temper is caused by an ugly little microbe?"
"Hush!" said the patient. "For goodness sake, speak quietly, doctor! She's sitting in the next room."

MR. CHURCHILL'S OMISSION
To the Editor:—In Mr. Churchill's otherwise magnificent speech there is one pointed omission. Churchill is a great writer, a great orator, a good soldier, even a thorough patriot. He bears an honored name and promises to be a competent and efficient Prime Minister.

It is then all the more regrettable to find him listing "the shattered states and bludgeoned races" as "the Czechs, the Poles, the Norwegians, the Danes, the Dutch, the Belgians." History is too strong for him, though, and it is so recent that no living man can possibly have forgotten the facts. One nation, one race, is to use the old cliché, "conspicuous by its absence" from his enumeration. Where are Spaniards, victims of both Hitler and Mussolini, who made a far longer and better fight for liberty than any of those he mentioned, and who suffered more intensely from massacre and cruelty, notably women and children?

And why are they omitted? Can it be that he wishes tactfully to ignore and forget the "non-intervention" of his predecessor, the suspicious inaction against the tyrants, and, worst of all, the embargo by Britain against the legal government of Spain, mercilessly enforced till that government was extinguished and that nation fell under the heel of the traitorous Franco?

THEY GOT THE SUB
From the London Spectator

A naval officer just back from Norway tells a story that throws an interesting sidelight on the speed of modern communications. At 5.30 p.m. one afternoon a Norwegian saw a submarine steaming up the coast. He skied to the telephone and rang up the police in the nearest town. A British intelligence officer, informed at 6.55 p.m., gave the information to the signal officer. It was coded and wirelessly to the War Office. There the message was decoded and telephoned across to the Admiralty. Coded again, it was wirelessly to a cruiser in a Norwegian fjord, decoded and signaled by helio-lamp to an adjacent anti-

Better English

By D. C. WILLIAMS

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "We received three cars of coal."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "bitumen"?
3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Occupied, occurred, occasional.
4. What does the word "modify" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with abd that means "to relinquish formally; to renounce"?

Answers
1. Say "We received three carloads of coal." Carload means a load that fills a car. 2. Pronounce bit-u-men, i as in bit, u as in use, accent second syllable. 3. Occurred. 4. To change something in form or qualities. "Now they wish to modify the contract." 5. Abdicate.

To the Citizens of Victoria:—

I am happy in saying a word of support and encouragement on behalf of the drive for funds now being made by the Salvation Army

The "Army" is making an effort to raise $20,000.00 for war work and also for regular work of the organization.

The splendid work of the Salvation Army in the last war will never be forgotten and they are anxious to give the same good service in the present war.

I wish this campaign every success and appeal to every citizen to give it the support it deserves.

Mrs. J. Adam Canadian Club President

At the annual meeting of the Women's Canadian Club, held yesterday afternoon in the ballroom at the Empress Hotel, the following officers were unanimously elected: President, Mrs. James Adam; first vice-president, Mrs. T. H. Johns; second vice-president, Mrs. F. G. Aldous; secretary, Mrs. J. A. Campbell; literary secretary, Mrs. J. A. Fletcher; and treasurer, Mrs. C. C. Fyfe. The following were chosen by ballot as members of the executive: Mrs. J. Baxter, Mrs. F. M. Bryant, Mrs. K. C. Drury, Mrs. Bruce Hutchison, Mrs. T. A. Johnston, Mrs. Howard Taylor and Mrs. Alma Wilson. A comprehensive report of the year's activities was read by the secretary, Mrs. F. G. Aldous, in which she enumerated the various affairs held by the club.

BURSARIES

The two $100 bursaries given to the girl and boy students gaining the highest marks in the matriculation examination were won this year by Joyce Dalziel and Walter Knotts of the Victoria High School. The history prize of one year's subscription to the Canadian Geographical Magazine for the student gaining the highest marks in Canadian history at the Margaret Jenkins School had been won by Vivian Bayles, and the same economics prize of $25 to be spent in buying books went to the Junior High School.

Mrs. Aldous stated that under the sponsorship of Mrs. T. H. Johns the lecture meetings had been exceptionally interesting. She extended thanks to Mrs. Duncan McBride, who had ably convened the musical programs and to the artists who had played and sung for the club.

The treasurer's report showed a balance on hand of $826.48, with total disbursements for the year $2,397.94.

Mrs. P. B. Scurrah expressed, on behalf of the club, the appreciation of the work of Mrs. James Adam and her past year's executive, to which Mrs. Adam in replying coupled her thanks with the retiring executive and expressed the wish that the cloud now hanging over the world would be dispelled by the time of the next meeting of the club in September.

The question of having or not having music at the regular meetings was discussed and a large majority voted in favor of music.

An attractive program was given by Mr. Allan Wilkie, D.B.E. and Miss Hunter-Watts, consisting of scenes from Shakespeare and Sheridan, the quarrel scene from "The School for Scandal," which they played together; the borrowing scene from "The Merchant of Venice," in which Mr. Wilkie played the three roles of Shylock, Bassanio and Antonio; the lesson scene from "Henry V" by Miss Hunter-Watts and "The Seven Ages of Man" by Mr. Wilkie. Miss Hunter-Watts was presented with a corsage bouquet by Mrs. Adam.

Party To Be at Molton Combe

"Molton Combe" the home of Mrs. Curtis Sampson, 1003 Neer Street Avenue will be the scene of a garden party on June 15 from 2:30 to 6 p.m., the arrangements being undertaken by the members of the Queen Alexandra Solarium Junior League as a finale to their season's activities, an affair which they anticipate will be an outstanding achievement for the year. In addition to the pleasure to be obtained from visiting the garden, will be many attractions as well as tea which will be served by members in quaint costumes. Mrs. Howard Sturrock is general convener of the party and those wishing to make reservations for bridge will kindly phone Mrs. Sturrock, G 4698.

The members of the committee for the fete are: Mrs. J. E. Cuzner, Mrs. C. W. Chapman, Mrs. K. J. Davis, Mrs. I. C. Ryecroft, Miss Barbara Van Kleek, Miss Dorothy Newman and Miss Phyllis Baylis.

The W.A. to Army and Navy Veterans will meet on Monday. The card game announced for Thursday is postponed until June 13.

BABY'S HOT LITTLE HEAD IS A DANGER SIGNAL

WHEN your baby's head feels hot to hand you must do something. And quickly. Read what Mrs. E. of Erieview does and what results she gets. "My baby's cheeks and hands were so hot I was frightened. I gave him a Baby's Own Tablet at noon and by after supper he was all better."

And Mrs. Francis Carroll, of Midland, has this to say: "My little girl was so feverish I was really alarmed. Then I thought of Baby's Own Tablets. I gave her three every two hours and by night she was up and around."

Baby's Own Tablets are sweet-tasting, easy to take, absolutely safe. Analytical certificates on every box. Quickly reduce simple fevers. Equally good for teething fevers, diarrhoea, upset stomach, colds and other minor ailments of baby. Get a box today. Sickens so often drive in the night. 25 cents. Money back if you are not satisfied.

Social and Personal

Mrs. C. W. Bradshaw has taken up residence for the summer at her camp at Cordova Bay.

Mrs. Jack Burns of Vancouver came over to Victoria this afternoon, and will be joined here on Saturday by her husband.

Mrs. Richard H. Angus and her little son left today for Vancouver, thence by plane to Halifax to join her husband, Lieut. R. H. Angus, R.C.N.V.R.

Lieut. Colonel and Mrs. Lee Wright and family left Victoria on Saturday for their cottage at Deep Cove, where they hope to remain for the summer months.

Mrs. A. D. Mann, 644 Linden Avenue, has as her guests her brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. E. T. French, Regina, and their son and daughter, who will be here for about a week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Witmer of 931 Craigflower Road will be "at home" tomorrow afternoon and evening on the occasion of the 64th anniversary of their wedding day.

Mrs. C. Ainsworth, Byron Street, Oak Bay, has returned from Vancouver, where she spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. M. D. Moe.

Mrs. R. F. Caverhill entertained a few friends at tea yesterday afternoon at her home on Linden Avenue in honor of Mrs. S. Buxton, who recently arrived with her husband from Vancouver to live here.

Mrs. E. G. Ethier of Langford left today for Vancouver to visit her brother, Mr. J. Robinson, proceeding on Friday to Watrous, Saskatchewan, where she will spend three weeks with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Findlay.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Collison, the Uplands, and Mrs. Collison's mother, Mrs. J. J. Collison, are spending a few days in Vancouver. Mrs. J. J. Collison will visit in White Rock with relatives before returning to Victoria, while Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Collison will proceed to Wenatchee for a visit with friends there.

Miss Ella Brown, whose marriage to Harold Biggs will take place shortly, was the guest of honor Monday evening when her cousin, Miss Verna Pomfret was hostess at a miscellaneous shower at the home of her aunt, Mrs. W. A. Brown, 660 Beacon Street. The bride-to-be entered the room to the strains of the "Lohengrin Wedding March," played by Miss Ethyl Speller. Miss Verna Pomfret presented the bride-to-be and her mother with corsage bouquets of sweet peas, carnations and rosebuds. The many lovely gifts were attractively arranged on a prettily-decorated table in a color scheme of pink and white. In the centre being a huge white bell. Games were enjoyed throughout the evening. The winners being: Mrs. Leethwood, Mina Wilson, Ethyl Speller and Kay Cruthers. Later a sit-down supper was served. The invited guests were: Mesdames W. A. Brown, E. Leethwood, Cadick, M. Wilson, White and Cox, and Misses Annie and Isabelle Stewart, Mae White, Nellie Snider, Kay Cruthers, Ethyl Speller, Dorothy Robinson, Katie McKillop, Mina Wilson, Lucy Weeks, Verna Pomfret, Mollie Parkinson, Dora Bristol and Jean Govenlock.

Mrs. Arthur Nation of Vancouver and her daughter, Miss Barbara Nation, came from the mainland this afternoon on a visit to Mrs. Nation's sister-in-law, Mrs. R. H. B. Ker, who is at her summer home at Finnelly Bay. Mrs. Nation's nieces, Miss Gerry Kilvert and Miss Sally Kilvert of Winnipeg also arrived on the afternoon boat and are the guests of Mrs. C. W. Baker, Sinclair Road.

A surprise party was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. McAuley, 1756 Second Street, on the occasion of the 22nd anniversary of their wedding. Cards and games were played, the winners being: Mr. Harry Silver, Mrs. F. Welsh, Mr. R. H. Lott, Mrs. J. H. Potts and Mr. Harry Bennett. Supper was served from a prettily-decorated table. A corsage bouquet of pink carnations and maidenhair fern was presented to Mrs. McAuley, and during supper an ebony vase, embossed with sterling silver, was presented to the guest of honor. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Silver, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lott, Mrs. F. Welsh, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lott, Mrs. J. H. Potts and Mr. Harry Bennett.

Mrs. C. J. Waddy of Duncan was hostess at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss May Compton-Lundie, whose marriage to Lieut. Jim Elze will take place next week. The women members of the choir of St. Peter's Church, Quamichan, of which Miss Compton-Lundie has been a member for some time, were invited. The drawing-room was decorated with red, white and blue flowers, and the dining-room with red, white and blue paper. In the centre of the table was a handsome wedding cake, with a miniature bride and groom on top, and a small gun, with the letters R.C.A. on the cake. On arrival Miss Compton-Lundie was presented with a corsage of red and white carnations and blue delphiniums. Later, Mr. R. E. Macbean, the choirmaster, presented the bride-to-be with a beautiful blue vase, as a gift from the choir.

Mrs. E. W. Hetherington and Mrs. W. H. Yardley poured tea at the Women's Canadian Club party in the lounge of the Empress Hotel following yesterday afternoon's meeting. Those present were Mr. Allan Wilkie, Miss Hunter-Watts, Mesdames K. C. Drury, A. J. Campbell, James Adams, P. E. Taylor, H. L. Campbell, W. H. Wilson, T. A. Johnston, John Baxter, T. H. Johns, F. G. Aldous, B. C. Richards, D. C. Cameron, E. H. Griffiths, J. G. Miller, H. D. Brumpton, J. W. Jones, Alfred Carmichael, F. Rodgers (New York), A. V. Hamilton, Alan Stevenson, C. W. ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Weddings

McBEAN—HAIR

A marriage of interest here, where the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Athol McBean of Winnipeg, have many friends, took place in Toronto, Saturday afternoon. The bride was Kathleen Rose-Mary, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Harvey Hair, and the groom was Phillip Wallace McBean, Dr. George Pidgeon, Dr. Peter Bryce, and Archdeacon F. W. Hamilton performed the service. Dr. Harvey Doney sang "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Dr. H. A. Fricker. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in an unusual gown of blush satin veiled with marquisette billowing into a full length train. Her illusion veil matched exactly and she carried pink gardenias.

In the bridal party were Miss Helen Jane Ince, maid of honor; Mrs. David Sydney Beatty, Mrs. Alexander Stewart, Misses Marion Fife, and Elizabeth Laidlaw, Mr. Gordon Gilmour of Winnipeg, as best man, and Messrs. David Leggett, Frederick Adams, J. Nathan Conacher of Hamilton, William Hair, the bride's brother, David Sidney Beatty, and John David Eaton.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. For her honeymoon to Sea Island, Georgia, the bride wore an ensemble of baby blue wool accented by a rippling collar of blue fox. On the stray purse which matched her straw bodice she pinned pink gardenias.

SPRUSTON—DICKEY

At a quiet ceremony on Saturday evening in Vancouver, Marion Kathaleen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Dickey, became the bride of Mr. Leslie Spruston, R.C.A.F., Victoria, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Spruston of Victoria.

The home of the officiating minister, Rev. Hugh Rae, was the setting for the wedding. Given in marriage by her father, the bride had chosen a dress of powder blue sheer, with fitted bodice and fully flared skirt. Her turban of dusty pink was veiled in matching tone and she carried a shower bouquet of roses, gardenias, pink sweet peas and gladioli buds.

Mrs. E. Benson was her only attendant, wearing a model frock in fuchsia tone, long-waisted and featuring a high-necked bodice. Her sharply tilted beige felt hat was matched by her accessories, and she carried mauve and pink sweet peas and liddle carnations. Mr. Jack Proby was the best man.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 2042 Macdonald Street, where bouquets of gladioli, sweet peas, peonies and stocks formed the floral setting for the wedding party.

Mrs. Dickey received the guests in a dress of dusky rose silk crepe, trimmed with red fox, with accessories in navy blue. Her Breton sailor was banded in rose.

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Sam Beck of Nanaimo, assisted in receiving, wearing dusky pink sheer with navy accessories, and a wide-brimmed straw hat in dusky pink.

Mrs. Fred Burgess and Mrs. Robert Spruston presided at the urns.

For traveling the bride donned a coat of light navy over her wedding ensemble. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Spruston will reside in Victoria.

POLLOCK—HOLMES

A profusion of summer flowers adorned the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Holmes, 2923 Dysart Road, this afternoon for the marriage of their daughter, Phyllis, and Mr. Earl Victor Pollock, son of Mrs. N. B. Pollock, of Kelvin Grove, Island Highway, the ceremony taking place at 3:30 and performed by Rev. L. Menzies, in the presence of relatives and friends.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of white lace in fitted Princess style, fashioned over white satin. The bodice had short puff sleeves and she wore elbow-length lace mittens; a white picture hat and carried a small white satin muff, adorned with mauve orchids on the muff and being showered with cream roses and small mauve orchids.

Miss Molly Holmes, sister of the bride, was the only attendant and wore a dress of blue point d'esprit in ermine style, a matching hat and carried a colonial bouquet of summer flowers.

Mr. J. Newham was best man. The wedding music was rendered by Mrs. D. Griffiths and during the signing of the register Dr. W. W. Bryce played a violin solo.

The reception was held in the home and garden, the guests being received by Mrs. Holmes, wearing a turquoise blue redingote ensemble with beige accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses and Mrs. N. B. Pollock in navy crepe with matching accessories and a corsage bouquet of red carnations.

During the reception, the bridal party stood between tall baskets of white peonies in a corner of the drawing room banked with palms and ferns.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Company Sergeant Major L. B. Dempster, after which the bride cut the cake which was surrounded by pale pink tulle and moss rosebuds from a table covered with a lace cloth.

The bride and bridegroom left to spend their honeymoon at an unannounced destination. For traveling the bride donned a white and blue printed redingote ensemble, a beige topcoat and blue accessories, while her corsage bouquet was of mauve orchids.

On their return they will make their home on the Island Highway.

And if he doesn't give you the raise, tell him he can't come here to dinner any more!

At the wedding were Mrs. F. Kerley and Miss Joan Kerley of Ladysmith, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Pollock, Miss Betty Piercy and Mr. Pete Myers, all of Comox; Mr. and Mrs. J. Pollock and Mr. A. Laverock of Vancouver, Mr. J. Rennie of Port Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. L. Fatt of Jordan River.

RUSH—SMITH

At 2:30 this afternoon at the Metropolitan United Church Rev. Dr. A. E. Whitehouse united in marriage Doris E. Smith, of 2321 Cook Street, and Mr. Lewis Rush, only son of Mrs. J. Rush, 2172 Lafayette Avenue.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Reginald Smith, and wore a blue silk embroidered net dress, a small blue velvet hat, trimmed with blue velvet flowers and carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses and bouvardia. Her only ornament was a gold brooch set with pearls, worn by her mother.

Miss Elsie Matthews was bridesmaid and wore a frock of flowered silk pique, a Victorian picture hat and carried a bouquet of blue delphiniums.

The bridegroom was supported by Mr. David Gray and the guests were shown to the pews by Mr. Ben Franklin and Mr. Frank Mannix.

At the conclusion of the marriage service a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's mother, where Mrs. Rush, wearing a grey silk crepe dress, with violet trimming and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations, was assisted in welcoming the guests by Mrs. J. Small, of Nelson, in a rose-colored dress, with white accessories and a corsage bouquet of white carnations. During the reception, the bridal party stood in the drawing room in front of the fireplace.

which was banked with pink gladioli, roses, blue delphiniums and ferns. Refreshments were served from the bride's table which was centred with a three-tier wedding cake, surrounded by pink tulle and rosebuds, by friends of the bride including Mrs. L. Mainwaring, Mrs. N. Augustina and the Misses Kay, Caldwell, Jenny Ward, Phyllis Smart and Lois Macmurchie.

Mr. and Mrs. Rush left for the mainland on their wedding trip, the bride wearing for traveling a grey pin stripe suit, blue blouse, and a blue hat with other accessories in white, and a corsage bouquet of sweetheart rosebuds. On their return from the mainland they will make their home in the Caldwell Apartments, 2321 Cook Street.

Among the many wedding gifts were a handsome dinner service presented to the bride by her associates at the B.C. Telephone Company and an electric coffee percolator presented to the groom by Jones Bros.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mrs. J. Small of Nelson; Mrs. R. Spouse of Estevan Point, Mrs. F. W. Spouse of Alberni and Mrs. Edmonds of Houston, Texas.

BRAND—TURNER

Profusions of Talisman roses were used in artistic arrangement at St. Andrew's United Church on Saturday evening last, for the wedding of Alice May, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Turner of Oakburn, Manitoba, who became the bride of Mr. John Richard Brand, R.C.M., third son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Brand of Alberni. Rev. A. McLean officiated, and Mrs. F. Pitts was at the organ, while Mrs. A. B. Scyrme was soloist and contributed "Because." The bride made a graceful figure in her bridal frock of Alice blue silk crepe in afternoon mode, her hat flower trimmed in color harmonizing with her frock, her trailing bouquet composed of pink rosebuds and ferns. Miss Kate Brand, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid, and wore rose-toned georgette, with white hat and white accessories, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. John Golden of Qualicum supported the bridegroom as best man. Following the ceremony, a reception was held for immediate relatives and intimate friends at the residence of the bridegroom's parents. Rev. A. McLean was toastmaster, and Mrs. F. Brand, mother of the bridegroom, received the guests, choosing for the occasion a smart gown of marine blue silk crepe and corsage of Talisman roses. When the bride left for her honeymoon, to be spent at Vancouver, she changed to a tulle suit of jade green. On their return they will take up residence at Victoria, where the bridegroom is stationed temporarily.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bridge, 221 Robertson Street, Victoria, announce the engagement of their younger daughter, Marjorie Mabel, to Mr. William Sverre, only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Shoreman, 1621 Hollywood Crescent, Victoria. The wedding will take place shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Waltz of Kinross, Alberta, announce the engagement of their second daughter, Frances Katherine, to the staff of West Coast Hospital, Port Alberni, to Mr. Oscar Schmidt, second son of Mrs. Schmidt, and the late Mr. Emil Schmidt of Sebebe, Alberta. The wedding will take place on June 18 at the chapel of the Lourdes Hospital, Campbell River.

Christ Church Cathedral Senior Evening Branch of the W.A. will have as their guest speaker tomorrow evening their prayer partner, the Rev. Robert C. W. Ward, who has recently arrived from the Yukon.

Clubwomen's News

Under the auspices of Knox Presbyterian Ladies' Aid, a social evening has been arranged for tomorrow evening at 8 in the church.

A meeting of the Red Shield Women's Auxiliary will be held at 7:30 this evening at the Salvation Army Citadel, Broad Street. New members who are interested in supplying comforts for servicemen are invited to attend. Shipments of hand-knitted socks, scarfs and wristlets have been forwarded to the Salvation Army headquarters and woollens for evacuees. The weekly meeting of the Home League will be held at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon in the Citadel.

The meeting of the committee was held at the Aged Women's Home Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Mrs. W. L. Clay, the president, being in the chair and 10 members of the committee were present. A number of applications for admission were considered and ordered placed on the waiting list. Committee for the month, Mrs. D. Scott, convener; Miss E. O'Brien and Mrs. W. Grant.

The Young Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church met last evening at the home of Mrs. L. W. Johnson. The meeting opened with the devotional exercise conducted by Mrs. W. Scott. Following the business, Mrs. A. M. Boyd, the guest speaker for the evening, gave a very interesting talk on "Rhythm of Indian Village Life." The next meeting will be held on September 3.

The Esquimalt Community Club met last evening in St. Paul's Church House, with Mrs. R. McVie presiding. Mrs. Draper, in the absence of the sick convener, reported 63 sick visits had been made during May. Mrs. Aldridge, general convener of garden feed, reported plans were going ahead for garden party to be held on June 19 at Dr. and Mrs. Rickard's home on Lamson Street. Mr. Vincent, ways and means convener, reported on dance held in May and stated that no more dances would be held until the fall. The annual picnic will take place on August 7, with Mr. S. Vincent convener.

FUR "CARE-AGE"

It's a new word—we felt we just had to have one to describe our New Method of caring for your Furs. It may be taking liberties with the language, but we want to impress you with the fact that we DON'T take liberties with your Furs. New Method complete Fur Protection is scientifically far beyond ordinary "Fur Storage"—and yet it costs no more, sometimes less. Glad to give you the facts to back up our claims.

Agnes Macphail Changes Her Mind

TORONTO (CP)—This is a war against civilization itself, Agnes Macphail, former member of Parliament for Grey-Bruce, said in an interview yesterday, adding: "Whatever I had of pacifism went when Austria was invaded."

She urged immediate action to bring refugee children to Canada. She also disclosed that last week she had her bags packed to go to Saskatoon, where she has been invited to contest a pending by-election for the federal riding, but, "I suddenly asked myself what I was doing, going out there when this awful war was on—I turned and went home."

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Dyer, 2065 Carrick Street, will be at home to their friends on Saturday from 3 till 6 on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Oak Bay United Church W.A. will meet tomorrow in the church parlor at 2:45.

Merry thousands delight in THIS GAYER BREAKFAST

ADD YEARS TO MOTHER'S LIFE! That's what this new order has done! No more furrowed brows because "hubby" left a half-filled cereal bowl... He just won't miss a single morsel of Kellogg's Rice Krispies! No wonder she votes the tuncful ticket... and adds, "these golden-brown bubbles are just the thing for early-morning moods!"

And they stay crisp, too!

Tests show that Kellogg's Rice Krispies actually stay floating after two hours in milk or cream. "Rice Krispies" is the trade-mark of the Kellogg Company of Canada, Limited for their delicious brand of oven-popped Rice. Rice Krispies are unique in form, absolutely different from any other ready-to-eat cereal. Order Kellogg's Rice Krispies today. When eating out, ask for the wax-wrapped, individual package. Made only by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

JUNE'S "BOOS" CHANGE TO COOS!

Gentle little June fared up in rage when the same old tiresome "breakfast" was served her... day after day, after day!... June's mother poured out the story into her kindly dealer's ear. "Great Snap-Crackle-Pop!" he shouted, reaching for a Rice Krispies package. The young rebel quickly surrendered to Snap, Crackle, and Pop. Now, watch June dig into her golden-brown Rice Krispies!

WANTS ESQUIMALT TO BUY GAS RETAIL

Councillor J. A. Christensen's suggestion at the Esquimalt council meeting last night that the municipality buy its gasoline from retailers of the district rather than wholesalers, was met with disapproval.

The suggestion formed the main item of discussion at the meeting, postponed from Monday

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

night, after a short agenda had been dealt with.

Councillor Christensen pointed out that the municipality saved only two cents a gallon by purchasing gasoline wholesale since the change in price.

"Why not let the retailers of the municipality have the business and do away with the inconvenience of storing fuel for our trucks," he queried.

P. J. McCulloch, foreman of works, said that the municipality used 500 gallons a month.

"The savings by purchasing gas wholesale and storing it is big enough to stand by," Councillor Thomas Hadfield said. Councillor Fred. Eaton agreed.

Reeve Alex Lockley asked that the question be laid on the table until the chairman of works, Councillor Albert Heald, was present.

Reeve Lockley was reappointed representative to the board of directors of the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

The foreman of works' report that opening up of Dunsmuir Street between Lamson Street and Macaulay Street, and Macaulay and Head Streets, would cost $4,851.25, was put on file.

The foreman of works also reported that cost of laying a sidewalk on Wollaston Street would be $2,043.50. The question was laid on the table.

A $75 offer for a lot on Wychbury Avenue from A. B. Findlay, was accepted.

The Department of Public Works will be asked to tear down unsightly shacks on Wollaston Street.

Councillor G. R. Guillemaud gave notice of introduction of a by-law at the next meeting, prohibiting parking of cars on Peters Street between Lyall and Malvern Streets, and on Malvern Street.

KOMARNO, Hungary (CP-Havas)—German authorities of the protectorate of Bohemia have demanded payment of 2,000,000 crowns for their "protection," it was learned here.

Germans in the protectorate have resumed the campaign of terrorization of Czechs. Mass arrests are taking place. Ex-officers, professors, teachers, priests, and even young students have been herded into concentration camps without charges or explanation.

Parkers Better Watch Out

Constable Douglas Bone is pictured above astride the new servi-car, recently purchased by the Victoria police department for the purpose of speeding up the marking of cars in the downtown area, chasing away double-parkers and clearing up traffic jams.

Health Bill Met By Taxpayers

"The health departments, both provincial and local, can only act as spearheads in the attack against communicable disease and the safeguarding of public health," said Dr. G. F. Amyot, provincial health officer, in an address on "Public Health and the People" to the Kiwanis Club at the Empress Hotel yesterday.

Dr. Amyot, speaking about the prevention of disease, the safeguarding of public health, and the work of the health department, told the Kiwanians that the burden of expense caused by preventable causes rested on the shoulders of the taxpayer.

"The average person does not often come into contact with the health department, but the responsibility of a pure water supply, a pure milk supply and other causes of communicable disease rests on the shoulders of the health department. A pure milk supply is one of the greatest blessings to the public, but it is also one of the greatest dangers if it is not controlled," said the speaker.

"We must have laws which will back up the work of the health department with full authority so that a safe food supply can be provided to the public. This department has spent much in research and even human life in its efforts to provide safety health measures for the public.

"We have the responsibility today to see that the health of our soldiers, sailors and airmen, whose lives are so valuable to the Empire, are kept to a high standard. Their families must also be protected. We must be prepared to meet any eventualities that might result when they return, to prevent an epidemic such as the one which swept our nation after the last war," said Dr. Amyot.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the Public Utilities Committee, and was thanked on behalf of the Kiwanians by Austin I. Curtis, past president of the club.

A feature of the meeting was the appearance of the Empress Hotel trio under the direction of William Tickle.

FORMER TIMES BOY LIKES YUKON LIFE

Rev. Robert Ward, former Times carrier, and now an Anglican missionary in the Yukon, came back to civilization this week after four years in the Far North and found the sidewalks and streets tiring. In the north there are only dirt streets and wooden sidewalks.

Mr. Ward is stationed at Fort Selkirk, where the Yukon, Lewes and Pelly Rivers join.

In the summer he visits his parishioners, who lived in scattered homes along a 500-mile front. He travels by canoe, sometimes using the river steamers, and then floating downstream in his own boat.

In the winter he remains mostly at Fort Selkirk, where, in his own words, "I'm doctor, preacher and teacher." In his log school he teaches the Indian children; Sundays he holds services in the picturesque log church on the banks of the river, and at all hours of the day and night he visits Indian homes to render first aid. There are 14 whites and about 300 Indians at Selkirk, which is now a Hudson's Bay Company post.

Like most people who have lived there, Mr. Ward loves the Yukon, and is looking forward to his return. He has been on a visit to Winnipeg and Toronto and will leave at the end of this month for Selkirk. His immediate superior in the church is Bishop Geddes of the Yukon.

WANT SPRINKLERS FOR BOULEVARDS

Purchase of "Cricket" sprinklers, at a cost of $205, to water city boulevards, will be recommended to the council by the joint parks and works committees.

The equipment will be used in series on hoses.

A scheme was advanced by Mayor Andrew McGavin to establish a permanent sprinkler system similar to that used in the Parliament Buildings grounds as a future project. The mayor suggested the plan be undertaken on a basis of partial installation each year until the city was covered. Such an arrangement, he said, would eventually cut down on boulevard maintenance costs.

Employment of 20 extra men this year to look after the grass strips was considered impractical from an expense point of view. During the meeting Alderman Ed. Williams was asked to study the advisability of securing a grass cutter for streets without proper boulevards.

Ambulances Donated

CALGARY (CP)—In response to a Red Cross appeal for 50 ambulances, donation of six fully-equipped vehicles for overseas use was announced in Calgary.

The City of Calgary will send an ambulance to the British government, Mayor Davison and City Commissioner J. A. Tweddle decided. Their recommendation will go before the city council Monday for approval.

At a Rotary Club meeting yesterday, an appeal for $2,000 to send an ambulance brought $2,146 within five minutes. M. B. Peacock, Calgary barrister, told Red Cross headquarters he would donate another vehicle.

Associated-Breweries of Canada Ltd. will contribute three ambulances, one each for Alberta, British Columbia and Saskatchewan.

Civil Service Control

OTTAWA (CP)—Appointments in the customs and excise branch of the National Revenue Department will be made exclusively by the civil service after this, instead of by order-in-council as an alternative method at present, under a bill given final reading in the Commons yesterday.

The bill also places beyond doubt the status of persons now in the service who were appointed under the former method.

Mineral deposits containing radium were found in Sweden for the first time, in 1939.

"So you sneer at tradition, eh?"

"Lots of young people—and I'm not so old myself—think it's smart to sneer at anything that wasn't invented yesterday. I belong to a firm started by my great-grandfather. He established a standard of high quality that has become a tradition—and I'm proud of it. That's why I like Old Chum—it, too, has a tradition behind it. So you can rely on it—always and everywhere! There is no other tobacco just like Old Chum."

Mr. Reid "Goes to Town"

"My husband used to look beaten before the day was well begun," says Mrs. Reid. "His system was so sluggish it seemed as though he dragged a ball and chain around."

This wretched "ball and chain" feeling is not rare. Often it's due only to a lack of bulk in the diet.

Post's Bran Flakes help to prevent it. They provide just enough natural bulk in the form of bran to keep food wastes moving promptly.

"When Bill starts out now you'd think he owned the world," says Mrs. Reid.

"Yes, Post's Bran Flakes put me on top," says her husband.

"They're 'tops' in taste, too!"

HELP keep your family free from the effects of faulty elimination by serving Post's Bran Flakes regularly. They are so appetizing—so convenient. If this does not readily relieve constipation due to lack of bulk, consult a physician.

Refugees Pour Into Britain

By D. E. BURRITT
LONDON (CP)—Seemingly endless, the parade of refugees to Britain continues.
Every ship that pushes into a Channel port brings its quota. Warships, freighters and even trawlers land pathetic bands of bewildered Hollanders, Belgians, French and even German exiles.
All have had much the same experience. All were forced to flee their homes, taking only what they could carry in handbags. Some lack even these. Weary, hungry, sad, they arrive.

Many are ill. Some have been machine-gunned or bombed by Nazi airmen. Some have witnessed sinkings of other refugee ships. Some have seen their kin lost. All relate heartrending tales.
Some have rolled blankets, food baskets, haversacks, parcels of clothing. Few have money. Nearly every group has its squaling baby, aged man or woman or someone on crutches or with cane. All carry their gas masks in cardboard boxes. These have just been given them by British authorities.
They sit and stare around a dreary railway station, nibbling at sandwiches given them by charity workers. As soon as they have been "checked and okayed" by immigration and police officials, they are sent by bus or train to shelters where they are fed, bathed and given a home for a night or so until billets are found for them.

Women for B.B.C.

LONDON—Men in the B.B.C. clamored to the British Broadcasting Corporation for "more announcers like Elizabeth Cowell," so the B.B.C. have engaged another woman announcer, Kay Cavendish, 27.

His Wedding Morn

SOUTHAMPTON, England—A wedding was nearly postponed here when the groom, a herdsman, was butted by a bull on his wedding morning. He was not seriously hurt and didn't tell his bride about it till the next day.

NEBRASKA FLOOD TAKES HIGH TOLL

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Stories of suffering and heroism were told today in the wake of north-east Nebraska's devastating flood that claimed five lives, and in which at least seven others were reported missing.

Hundreds are homeless as a result of torrential rains that sent small streams raging out of their banks to sweep houses and business buildings from their foundations in six northeastern counties, causing damage as yet unestimated.

Edith Lipp, 20, only member of her household of six neither dead nor missing, told this graphic story:

"We were out in the yard loading goods in our truck when the water hit us. We grabbed a clothesline, all of us. One by one I saw them drop off."

"Finally I couldn't hold on any longer. The water washed me down into a tree—I don't know how far. I was there for at least eight hours before they rescued me."

Nazi Boston Consul To Be Investigated

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Martin Dies committee on un-American activities agreed today to investigate the refusal of the German consul in Boston to give the Boston Traveler any more news because of an editorial criticizing Hitler.

Denouncing the consulate's action as "a challenge to the freedom of the press in the United States," representative John McCormack declared the action was "a direct violation of the position of a consul by attempting to censor a newspaper in the United States."

The Boston Traveler informed the public yesterday it had been "blacklisted" by the German consulate in Boston. The following letter was addressed to the city editor of the Traveler:

"This consulate has read the editorial 'Let Us Be Realistic,' published in your paper of May 28 in which the head of a nation, with whom the United States of America entertains diplomatic relations, is insulted in such uncivilized expressions that this consulate in the future must refuse to give your paper any information in whatever matter it may be."

The editorial, reprinted by the paper along with the letter, denounced Hitler personally and said that he would "never be beaten by the rules of civilized warfare." It added:

"Somebody has got to get right down in the gutter with him and fight the way he fights, only more cruelly."

Clubwomen's News

The regular monthly meeting of the W.A. to No. 11 Detachment, R.C.O.C., will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Malcolm Gibson, 1382 Esquimalt Road, on Friday afternoon at 2.30.

The outing of C.C.F. Women's Auxiliary, held on Tuesday by the members, was enjoyed at the Japanese Gardens, Gorge. Mrs. Bell took the chair in absence of the president. Arrangements were made for a garden party to be held at C.C.F. Community Hall, Mt. Tolmie Road, June 19 at 2.30. There will be prizes, games, music and other features.

The meeting of the Victoria West Parent-Teacher Association held on Monday evening was well attended. After a short business session with the president, Mrs. Foster, in the chair, members and friends enjoyed cards. Winners at bridge and 500 were: Mrs. King, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Thomas and Mr. McKay. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Waters and her committee.

The Loyal group of the W.A. of Metropolitan Church met at the home of Mrs. E. W. Whittington, 1587 Rockland Ave. on Monday for a luncheon meeting. Mrs. Whittington presided at a business meeting. The secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. T. Taylor, gave her report and told of the work done for the first six months of the year. Mrs. W. L. Smith led in the devotional period. Mrs. R. Hetherington and Mrs. A. Parfitt, social service convenor, told of nine visits made to members in the Aged Women's Home and the sending of birthday cards to those having birthdays during the month. Mrs. A. Read reported a sick visit made to a member and flowers sent.

Mrs. W. F. Perry presided at the well-attended monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society, Victoria West United Church, held on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Perry, Arm Street. Mrs. William Caley, Mrs. Hiquiebran and Mrs. L. A. Young were appointed to arrange the July picnic meeting to be held at Gorge Park on Monday, July 8.

A motion passed that Mrs. A. W. Wright attend to finances for annual life membership certificate. Mrs. J. H. Croft gave a good account of finances. Letters were directed sent to Dr. W. J. Spurrell and the choir of the church for their valued help in the service of Sunday evening. Mrs. Caley told of a great number of articles finished for Red Cross contribution. Mrs. Hiquiebran reported visits made to sick ones in hospitals. After close of meeting with prayer by Mrs. Guy, tea with refreshments were served by Mrs. Perry assisted by Mrs. Hobson.

The meeting of W.B.A. Review No. 1 was held on Monday evening in the K. of C. Hall, with the president, Mrs. M. Stephens, in the chair. The provincial health supervisor, Mrs. L. La Galla, Vancouver, was present. The members stood to observe a minute of silence for the late Mrs. L. Tredwell. A report was made of several sick members. Mesdames A. Ritchie, W. Henson, A. Davis and A. Taylor form the committee arranging for the picnic to be held on July 10 at Elk Lake for all members and juniors. Mrs. A. Ritchie will be in charge of the transportation and those intending to go are asked to telephone her at E 9947. Mrs. J. Winter reported on a successful card party held recently at the home of Mrs. J. Watson. The Pioneer Club's next meeting is to be in the form of a picnic, with the date to be announced later. The next sewing meeting will be held on June 12 at the home of Mrs. L. Gaez, 1871 Forrester Street. The Qu Alex Girls' Club's next meeting will be on June 14 at the home of Mrs. M. Borthwick, 755 Victoria Avenue. Refreshments were served by the social committee at the close of the meeting.

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. D. Todd of Whittier, California, are visiting in Victoria with Mrs. Todd's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Wensley, 812 Lamson Street.

Mrs. A. G. Piddington and her daughter, Miss Sylvia Piddington, are visitors in Vancouver to attend the Molson-Paterson wedding today.

The engagement is announced by Mrs. W. E. Wilson of her brother, Flying Officer, Humphrey Oliver Madden, son of the late Rev. and Mrs. Wyndham Madden, Victoria, and Eleanor Marjorie, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. J. Leslie Jennings, Ottawa. The marriage will take place at St. Andrew's Church, Ottawa, June 8.

Guests at Qualicum Beach Hotel and playing golf over the week-end included Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Tutill, Tacoma, Washington; Capt. and Mrs. D. B. Clark, Vancouver; Mr. F. O. Lumb, Vancouver; Mr. A. C. Turner, Mr. B. Alley, Toronto and Mrs. C. D. Schofield, Victoria.

Miss Joyce Hiquiebran, who will be married this month, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower at the home of her cousins, the Misses Margaret and Eva Hiquiebran, 520 William Street. The bride-elect and her mother were presented with corsage bouquets of carnations, sweetpeas and roses, by Miss Beverly Mitchell. The gifts were concealed in a miniature roundhouse representing the C.P.R. shops. The supper table was presided over by Mrs. C. A. Mitchell, Miss Irene Watson and Eva Hiquiebran. Games and contests were played, the winners being Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Willing; Miss M. Watson.

Miss Marion Wingate entertained at the home of her parents, Capt. and Mrs. W. Wingate, 671 Niagara Street, on Tuesday evening at a shower for Miss Estelle Macdougall, a bride-to-be. Games were arranged by Miss Davina Dingwall, and a buffet served from a table centred with crystal ball with a single white rose and flanked by white tapers. The coffee urn was presided over by Mrs. Wingate, and Misses Beatrice Godson, Joy Savage and Davina Dingwall assisted in serving. Following served the gifts, which were concealed in a basket in the form of a rosebud, were presented to the guest of honor. Among the invited guests were: Mesdames D. D. flowers flanked the chancel rail and lace bouquets of syringa marked the guest pews.

Gleaming ivory satin moulded the wedding gown of the bride, the long train sweeping from a circular inset at the hipline below the fitted bodice. Self-covered buttons extended from the back of the heart-shaped neckline to the waist and the sleeves were long and pointed over the hands. A net veil cascaded to the end of the train from a coronet of stephanotis and small lovers' knots were scattered on the skirt to lend restrained detail. She carried a spray of Johanna Hill roses and deep-toned orchids.

Miss Phyllis Milligan of Vancouver and Miss Sylvia Piddington of Victoria attended the bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Henry Buss of Victoria. Percival T. Molson of Montreal was his brother's groomsman and S. Tyhurst of Victoria acted as usher.

After a reception at the home of the bride's mother, Mr. and

ONCE MORE THE BUGLES!

ONCE again the bugles call and the Salvation Army goes to the front on active service with the troops—not to kill and destroy but to comfort and save... to help men to keep a grip on themselves and their own souls. Will you help to make the soldiers say what they said in the last war, "God Bless the Salvation Army."

THE RED SHIELD PROGRAMME

The complete Red Shield Programme of the Salvation Army is already operating in the principal training camps of Canada and with the overseas units. It accompanies our soldiers to France and follows as close up to the front line as the military authorities permit.

EGYPT PREPARES FOR FULL DEFENCE

ALEXANDRIA (AP)—Egypt, determined to be ready for any eventualities in the Mediterranean, today rushed preparations for wartime emergencies, after fixing a new credit of £2,000,000 for national defence and laying the groundwork for food rationing.

Finance Minister Husain Sirry Pasha declared that in view of the international situation, the government might ask approval of further credits. He fixed the 1940-41 budget at £47,718,000. The government appointed Ibrahim Abdul Hadu Bey as minister of supplies.

Parliament has abandoned its summer recess. Premier Aly Maher Pasha told members they must be ready for an emergency session at any time.

The Premier held long conferences with the British ambassador, Sir Miles W. Lampson, and told the press the "accord is complete within the limits of the treaty of friendship and alliance."

LONDON (CP)—Lord Beaverbrook, Minister for Aircraft Production, announced that T. C. L. Westbrook has been appointed to take control of all aircraft purchases from Canada and the United States.

B.C. War Contracts
Total $20,000,000
OTTAWA (CP)—War contracts placed in Canada by the Defence Purchasing Board, the War Supply Board and the Department of Munitions and Supply from July 14, 1939, to April 30, 1940, totaled $163,614,562, according to a return tabled in the House of Commons in reply to a question by E. G. Hanson.

Contracts by provinces were: Nova Scotia, $1,438,920; New Brunswick, $2,707,755; Prince Edward Island, $810; Quebec, $66,658,776; Ontario, $54,987,490; Manitoba, $920,302; Saskatchewan, $146,882; Alberta, $376,347, and British Columbia, $20,426,278.

Almost 90 per cent of the $193,000,000 in war contracts let between July 14 last and April 30 has been placed in Canada, it was announced by officials.

Approximately 8 per cent of the contracts was placed in Britain and less than 3 per cent in the United States.

It was explained, however, that additional orders have been placed in the United States by manufacturers who must obtain abroad a portion of the raw materials they require to complete their orders. The British purchasing mission also has placed contracts totaling $1,000,000 in the United States for the Allies.

"WHY NOT GET UP IN THE BIG CAR CLASS?"
FOR SUCH A LITTLE BIT EXTRA"

"Instead of doing the same old thing again—buying one of the ordinary kind of cars—we thought we'd shop around this time"

"Imagine our surprise when we found we could step up to an Olds and easily afford it! Olds prices are lower than you think"

"Big Car" doesn't necessarily mean "Big Expense!" Look at Oldsmobile. Olds is a really big car any way you measure it. 197½ inches from bumper to bumper. Big and roomy inside. It's powered by a big, 95 horsepower Oldsmobile engine, and it's the lowest priced car with modern coil springs all around for extra riding comfort. In addition, Olds gives you more style, more quality and more prestige. Yet Oldsmobile costs so little more than ordinary cars—and figures show Olds is very economical to run. See it! Drive it—today! We have a new Olds waiting for you.

Protection at All Points

Modern motors are amazingly efficient, but they do demand protection. Speeds are higher, pressures greater, heat more intense. Lubrication is all-important. You need an oil that's engineered for this very job—that oil is Mobiloil.

Under the terrific crankcase pounding, the extreme heat, Mobiloil stands up. After the scientific processes by which it's distilled, refined, dewaxed and filtered, practically nothing is left but pure, rich oil. The elements of the crude which break down into sludge and carbon are taken out.

That's why Mobiloil protects at all points, keeps engines cleaner, gives smooth, sweet running. Fill up today with Mobiloil.

$5000 CADILLAC for $1,295

It's a 1936 Cadillac Convertible Sedan, which cost nearly $5,000, and has been driven 21,000 miles by careful original owner only. The above is an actual photo taken yesterday at our showroom. This handsome car is in perfect condition in every detail and looks as new as the day it rolled out of the Cadillac factory. Of course the price is ridiculous, but that's the owner's business — and your opportunity.

Canada Able to Finance War

ALBERT E. PHIPPS

"There is no doubt, in my opinion, of the ability of the country to finance its war effort," said Albert E. Phipps, president of the Imperial Bank of Canada, who arrived in the city yesterday afternoon from Toronto.

"What loans have been put out have been readily taken up and the indications are that the war savings certificate plan will be equally successful."

The people as a whole, Mr. Phipps said, will submit with good grace to any additional taxation that may be considered necessary for the successful prosecution of the war.

Mr. Phipps said Canada's war effort had been considerably speeded up since he left Toronto. "There is something doing at last," was the bank president's comment.

The proposal to build tank and airplane engines in Canada was a step in the right direction, Mr. Phipps thought. "I am quite sure that Canadian plants can build these engines and other essential war products as rapidly as proportionately and as efficiently as other countries."

Coming out to the coast by way of Winnipeg and Edmonton, Mr. Phipps found business generally stimulated by last season's heavy wheat crop and the war emergency.

General business was reasonably good throughout the country. The banker talked with prairie farmers on his way out here and the reports he received were that prospects were fair for the coming season's crop. He expressed the opinion that normal business would benefit from the great industrial effort now under way and that it would have a beneficial effect on the unemployment situation.

Mr. and Mrs. Phipps are staying at the Empress Hotel while in Victoria. This morning Mr. Phipps had a conference with J. H. D. Benson, manager of the local branch of the Imperial Bank of Canada. No developments were planned here at present, he said.

Apart from his business activities, Mr. Phipps had a busy day ahead of him contacting relatives and friends in the city.

He visited two of his sisters, Mrs. W. F. Proctor and Miss Victoria Phipps, of 1513 Elford Street, and looked up an old friend, Sir Richard Lake.

Attorney-General Gordon Wismer announced today there will not be an appeal by the provincial government in the fruit combines case. After conferring with H. I. Bird, government counsel in the prosecution of several Okanagan firms and individuals, Mr. Wismer said the government would abide by the Supreme Court decision dismissing the charges.

TOWN TOPICS

Members of the Metropolitan Choir are requested to be in attendance at the funeral service of Dr. W. E. Harper, which will be held in Metropolitan Church tomorrow afternoon at 3.

Slight damage was sustained by cars in charge of J. P. Bruce, 1732 Bay Street, and N. Monsen, Rockland Avenue, when they collided on Gorge Road last night at 11:15. They were going in the same direction on Gorge Road.

Three hundred workers enjoyed the annual picnic of the Inter school Christian Fellowship at Cordova Bay. Mr. Huron Shepard of Camp Imadene at Maple Bay outlined the schedule and work of the Bible camps for boys and girls this summer.

Herbert Massey, R.M.D. 3, Burnside Road, reported to the police that while driving south on Richmond Road this morning and turning east at the entrance to the Jubilee Hospital, a soldier motorcyclist, proceeding in the same direction, crashed into his truck. There were no injuries.

Cars driven by George Fawcett, 2655 Asquith Street, and Nilda M. L. Brown, 3731 Kathleen Street, were considerably damaged when they collided at Balmoral and Fernwood Roads at 1 this morning. The Brown car was going west on Balmoral and Fawcett north on Fernwood.

A settlement of $75 is proposed without prejudice to the city by R. S. Yates on behalf of Mrs. Louisa Done, injured recently when she tripped over a sidewalk projection on Quadra between Hillside and Topaz Avenues. The suggestion is advanced in a letter received at the City Hall today.

Elia Hallsom, 3230 Quadra Street, reported to city police that at 12:10 yesterday afternoon, while driving her car on Quadra Street, a Chinese girl on a bicycle going north on Quadra and turning west on Balmoral Road, caught the rear bumper of her car. The front wheel of the bike was torn off. There were no personal injuries.

Rupert Bennett, a youth, who entered a plea of guilty yesterday to a charge of stealing a car owned by the C. and C. Taxi Company on May 28, pleaded guilty to three additional similar charges before Magistrate H. C. Hall in City Police Court this morning, and was remanded in custody until tomorrow at the request of his counsel. Bennett today was charged with the theft of a car owned by John Pearson on two occasions and an auto owned by Herbert Roy.

Paul Bourassa, sailor, pleaded guilty to charges of dangerous driving and being in charge of a car without a driver's license and was fined $50 on the first count and $5 on the license charge in City Police Court this morning. Going east on Hillside Avenue on May 31, Bourassa knocked down Thomas Sullivan at the intersection of Quadra Street. He then lost control of the car and it crossed the street, climbed the north curb of Hillside Avenue and crashed into the window of a store. The man knocked down suffered an injured foot. The damage to the car and the store amounted to $100 each. Magistrate Hall told Bourassa that he should not drive a car if he did not have better control over it. Another sailor was fined $10 for not having a driver's license.

New traces of Maurice H. Nickerson, Victorian lost in the Trout Lake District, were found today by a search party in charge of Constable Bob Ross of the Provincial Police and hopes that he would soon be found were aroused.

Ross' party came out at the Humpback this morning with news that they had picked up Nickerson's trail on the trail between Jarvis Lake and Trout Lake. It is believed he is heading in the direction of Sooke.

This party saw Nickerson's hobnailed bootprints on the trail, also the tracks of his dog. There were also broken ferns along the trail, the way they were broken indicating the direction he is traveling. The tracks were lost in open country, but the party picked them up later in a boggy section of the trail and found a hobnailed log in a log. After that no further traces were found.

The pack-horse party with the imported bloodhound is on another trail, but it is intended to get them back and to take up the new trail, which is comparatively fresh.

More than 30 persons are taking part in the search for the lost man, who left the city Sunday intending to fish at Trout Lake. They are thoroughly scouring the country for traces of him.

Dozen Organizations Banned

Canada Outlaws Fascists and Reds

OTTAWA (CP) — Outlawing of more than a dozen organizations, including the Communist Party and the National Union Party, under the Defence of Canada Regulations, was announced by Justice Minister Ernest Lapointe in the House of Commons this afternoon.

These organizations will become illegal on publication in the Canada Gazette of the order-in-council amending the Defence of Canada regulations to that effect, Mr. Lapointe said. After that publication any person being a member of any of these associations or groups would be guilty of an offence against the regulations.

The list includes several foreign language organizations, as well as the Canadian Labor

Defence League, the League for Peace and Democracy and the Young Communist League.

TO NAME COMMITTEE

Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the Commons this afternoon he would, on Monday next, move his resolution setting up a Commons committee to inquire into the scope and operations of the Defence of Canada Regulations.

Mr. King said he would slightly amend the resolution in order that it might cover the question of whether the regulations go far enough or too far.

When the resolution was prepared at the start of the session criticism of the regulations was that they went too far, the Prime Minister said. More recently the criticism was that they did not go far enough.

Canoeists Volunteered

Girl Helped Man Boat In Dunkerque Rescue

LONDON (CP) — The story of how a strange fleet of yachts, motor launches, and even two canoes were hurriedly manned by volunteers eager to aid in the withdrawal of Allied troops from Dunkerque was told today by the Admiralty officer who organized the "armada."

He said the volunteers included six girl members of a yacht club, one of whom assumed a brusque, masculine voice on the telephone and became angry when her vocal disguise was penetrated.

The same girl telephoned later when the officer was out and told his assistant all arrangements had been made for her to go.

The officer said he believed she "probably sneaked through" to the French coast.

"Anything that could propel itself or be towed" was allowed to cross the Channel, the officer said; and two canoeists with outboard motors insisted they at least might be able to bring off a man.

The volunteers included two treasury officials who spent the week-end crossing and recrossing the Channel, and then wrote the Admiralty thanking it for "an interesting week-end," adding that if any similar job was available next week-end "to please count us in."

The only complaints came from the owners of craft which were taken by the Admiralty during their absence, and these men, according to the officer, were "furious" because they were not on the spot and able to go along.

At present there is no way of knowing the extent of the casualties to the boats and their crews. Losses will be ascertained only when the boats have been reassembled and the list of volunteers checked.

United Church Burns Mortgage

Centennial United Church is no longer in debt. At an impressive ceremony in the church auditorium last night before a capacity audience, a mortgage covering indebtedness that went back 50 years ago, was burned.

"It is hereby cremated without hope of resurrection," Dr. A. D. Reid, pastor of the church, said as the mortgage went up in smoke.

Members of the congregation who have played prominent parts in the progress of the church for many years took part in the ceremony.

Rev. J. P. Westman, Vancouver, who came to Centennial United in 1902 as pastor, brought greetings from the mainland.

He recalled old days in the church and congratulated the members on having cleared the debt. He urged them to go forward with a renewed sense of service in the Christian faith.

J. Alton, secretary of the trustees of the church, traced the successful financial and building steps taken by the board.

Dr. S. Howard, an active church member, was chairman. The pastor conducted a devotional service in opening the ceremony. Anthem, "Gloria" and "Hallelujah," were given by an augmented choir of 70 voices under direction of J. W. Buckler. Mrs. Paul Green gave an organ prelude and Frank Tupman, former choir leader, gave a vocal solo.

The burning of the mortgage was performed by Dr. Reid, assisted by H. G. Hambleton, who has been a member of the church for 48 years. The match that set the document in flames was sent by W. Sones, church caretaker, who is in hospital.

Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

store and met Serg. James Peterson, who entered the store and told Mrs. Yee, who said Miss Lee, proprietor, was out of town and that she was in charge, that she would be summoned. Miss Yee testified she heard Mrs. Yee say she was in charge of the store.

In her testimony, however, Mrs. Yee declared that she could not recollect telling the sergeant she was in charge of the store. She said she told him Mrs. Lee, the owner's wife, was in charge of the store, "I told him I only worked there," she added.

In view of the fact that both Serg. Peterson and Miss Yee testified they heard her say she was in charge, Magistrate H. C. Hall refused to believe Mrs. Yee's story and fined her.

Portuguese Traded With African Natives

The north star could not be seen by Vasco da Gama and his men when they landed at the Bay of St. Helena. They were far south of the equator and could see the Southern Cross but not the Big Dipper.

If it had not been for the compass, Vasco da Gama would hardly have dared the open ocean. As it was he had the help of this invention, which sailors of Europe had been using for some time.

Vasco da Gama gave presents to natives who came aboard.

Wood and water were taken aboard, and then came the order, "Set sail to go around the Cape!"

Going around the Cape was no simple matter. Heavy winds blew them back again and again, but they kept up the struggle and at last met success.

Now they sailed northward along the eastern coast of Africa. They were going through waters where men from Europe never had been before.

Now and then da Gama ordered stops to obtain food, as well as wood and water. The dark-skinned natives traded with them at certain places, but elsewhere ran away from them, or hid in ambush and shot arrows at the white-skinned strangers.

At one spot the Portuguese were treated so well that they named it "the Land of Good People." The natives crowded around them as they came ashore in small boats.

Martin Alfonso, a sailor, was in charge of the landing party. He gave the chief of the natives a cap, a jacket and a pair of red pantaloons. The chief lost little time in putting on the clothing, and marched proudly through his village.

The chief invited Alfonso to stay overnight in the village. His white skin seemed even more of a wonder to the negroes than the red pantaloons of their chief.

For three months the ships were piloted toward the north, with further stops along the way. At one place the negro natives were told they could come aboard the flagship, and there they were given presents by Vasco da Gama.

At length the fleet reached Malindi, about half way up the eastern coast of Africa. The next problem was to cut across the Indian Ocean, from Malindi. That seemed a hard problem, but at this point came a piece of good fortune.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am disgusted with my husband. He is forever going to beauty shops for permanent waves and to get his fingernails manicured and his eyebrows arched and so on. He wears a corset to improve his figure and his lingerie is finer than mine. He says that if it is good for women to beautify themselves, it is right for men to do so, too. What shall I do about it?

FAITHFUL READER.

Answer: Nothing, unless it is to offer up thanks that you have a husband who is easy on the eyes instead of one who is unshaven and unshorn and unpressed and a pain in the neck to behold.

When married women take to the beauty shops and get synthetic roses painted on their cheeks where natural ones have faded, and have their straggly greying locks transformed into hennaed curls it is in order to keep their husbands vamped and to conceal the ravages of time.

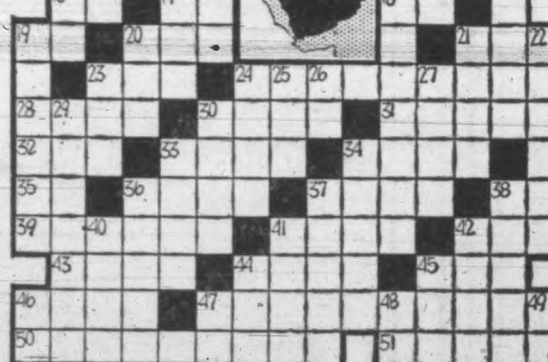

Perhaps, since your husband is taking a leaf from woman's book on how to be glamorous though middle-aged, he is spending his money and his time in being prettified in order to retain your affections. And surely that must be a consoling thought to any wife.

Anyway, why look a gift horse in the mouth? Certainly you must admit that a man with nice fluted hair looks better than one with a shining bald pate, and that a slim, straight figure is more pleasing to contemplate than a plump one. So why not give husband a cheer instead of a knock when he tries to outwit Mother Nature?

Don't think it is silly for a man to want to doll himself up. Don't forget that some of the bravest soldiers and the greatest statesmen the world has ever known used to wear curls and satins and laces and bedeck themselves with jewels.

DOROTHY DIX.

Adverse planetary aspects are strong today. There may be a sense of fear and depression which should be overcome by work that distracts attention from the war.

Under this rule of the stars, the family may be difficult to manage. Restlessness is likely to be prevalent among the young. Military training will be important and aviation will claim many young men. Women should prepare to give their services for war-time exigencies.

Unusual trade conditions will multiply as international agreements are forgotten. Transportation organizations will profit as travel lures win summer tourists. Aviation will gain in patronage.

According to noted astrologers, the Panama Canal is to require protection or even defence against hostile powers.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of advancement. Travel and change are indicated for both men and women. Public service will engage many.

Children born on this day probably will be original and ingenious in their mental processes. Many artistic folk belong to this sign.

Co-ordinate Guards

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Mitchell Hepburn and Attorney-General Gordon Conant have announced that the Ontario government, in the belief the war emergency necessitates the utmost precaution to protect property and persons from enemies within and without, will strive to assist and to co-ordinate volunteer civil guard forces formed in the municipalities. Provincial direction in advising and co-operating with municipalities which organize civil guards will be made through the provincial police, according to a memorandum to municipalities. The memorandum suggests the commanding officer of each volunteer force shall be sworn in as an honorary member of the reserve force of the Ontario Provincial Police.

Richmond and Indians Draw

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Intercollegiate Lacrosse League found something new for its record books last night when North Shore Indians and Vancouver Burrards battled to a 14 to 14 overtime tie.

It was the first tie ever recorded in the league, but the fans found the classic to their liking and called the game one of the best of the season.

The outcome put Burrards alone in second place with 314 points, 1/2 point ahead of Richmond Farmers. Indians are fourth with 215.

Indians gave credit for the draw to Bruce Hill, star goalie who miraculously saved a "sure" goal by Johnny Dale, only 30 seconds before the second overtime ended and the game was called off.

Each team netted three in the first quarter and Burrards moved out in front to lead 8 to 5 at half time. Indians recovered their shooting eyes to outscore Burrards 3 to 1 in the third and both pressed for victory in the final quarter, Indians just managing to knot the count at 12 to 12 with a minute of time left.

Under a new lacrosse ruling only 10 minutes of overtime was allowed, five minutes each way. Chubbie Smith sent Braves ahead just after the extra session began, but Roy Cavallin tied it up before the first five minutes were up.

Paul Seymour again put Indians in front after 25 seconds in the next period, only to see Buck Berry take a high rebound and beat Hill.

We'll Be Back Declare Deans

CHICAGO (AP) — Dizzy Dean went to the minors today with his heart set on perfecting a side-arm delivery that will enable him to return to Chicago Cubs.

The decision to send Dean, under option and subject to 24-hour recall, to the Tulsa, Okla., club of the Texas League was reached yesterday at a conference attended by owner Phil Wrigley, manager Gabby Hartnett and other Cub officials.

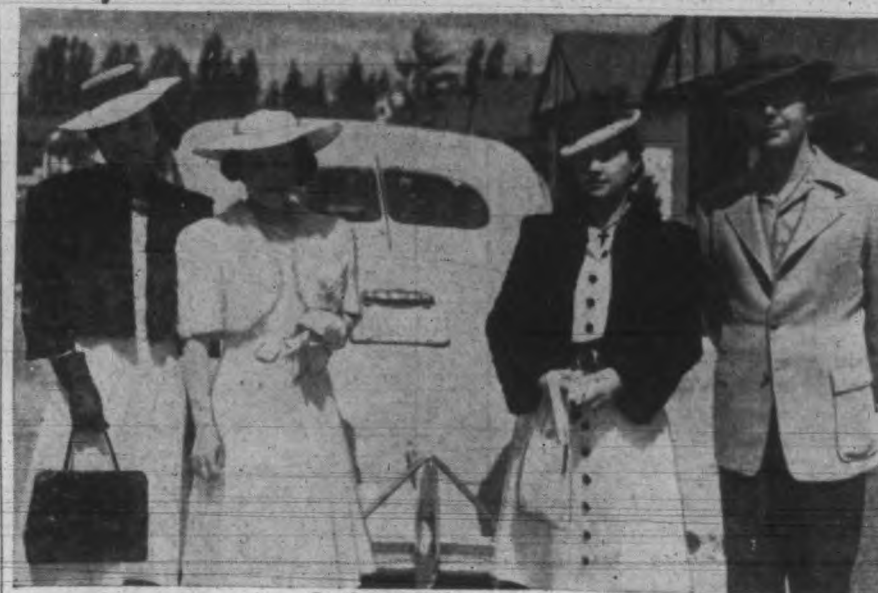

"We'll be back — don't forget that," chorused the Deans — Dizzy and his wife, Patricia. "Diz will have to learn this new side-arm delivery," said Mrs. Dean. "It will be much easier for him than a young fellow just coming up, because he knows all the tricks."

Wrigley revealed Dean will have a personal tutor during his stay with the Tulsa club, Walter (Dutch) Reuther, famous as a side-arm pitcher in the major leagues 20 years ago, and for the last three years talent scout for the Cubs on the Pacific coast, has been ordered by Tulsa to supervise Dean's activities.

Wrigley said no time limit had been set on Dean's stay in the minors. Neither will Dean's $10,000 salary be reduced. The difference in his Texas League salary will be paid by the Cubs.

Dean's motion has been essentially side-arm since he came to the Cubs for $185,000 in cash and three players at the start of the

Today's Motor Tourists

On their second vacation trip to Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Angle, above right, brought along two friends from their home town, Portland, Oregon, who had not crossed to the island before. They are Miss Pauline Gobbi, left, and Mrs. Jean Gattuccio. "The country's wonderful," each one agreed. "We'll be back many times." Mr. Angle was left on his own to explore the city this morning when the ladies went shopping for English china. In the lower pictures are Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Ferguson of Piedmont, California, who are here with their daughters, Isabel and Jean. Mr. Ferguson criticized the ferry rates. "They're too high to encourage motor tourists," he said. "The scenery and weather is worth the money paid when you get here but tourists who don't know what is in store for them are liable to stay on the mainland." It is the Fergusons' first trip to Victoria. "We like the people for their hospitality," Mrs. Ferguson said.

Lesnevich and Conn to Fight

DETROIT (AP) — Their heavy training grind finished, champion Billy Conn and challenger Gus Lesnevich tapered off with light workouts yesterday in preparation for their light-heavyweight title scrap tonight.

Managers of both fighters announced their charges were in great shape for the 15-round bout, and Lew Diamond, manager of the New Jersey challenger, predicted Lesnevich would "make a lot of suckers out of the experts this time."

Lesnevich dropped a 15-round decision to Conn in their first meeting. An attack of boils suffered by Conn twice postponed the rematch.

Worries over the champion's ability to make the 175-pound weight limit lessened when Manager Johnny Ray announced Conn scaled 174 1/2 after a six-round workout Monday. Lesnevich weighed 174 after his workout.

The bout will be held indoors in Olympia Arena.

1938 season, but he could not regain his old form. Clay Bryant, another ailing Cub right-hander, was indefinitely suspended yesterday. Troubled with a bad pitching arm all last season and through the present campaign, Bryant was granted what amounts to a leave of absence by Wrigley when the hurler expressed a desire to go to Los Angeles in quest of special treatment.

Bryant was the Cubs' second best pitcher in 1938, winning 19 games to help put the team in the world series.

GULDAHL FEARED

Ray Mangrum won the $150 prize in a special pitching contest, hoisting out on one of his three shots from about 50 yards.

The chance that an amateur might crash through in this open is pretty remote.

Bud Ward, the amateur champion from Spokane, has done no better than 75 in two tries and is off his long game. He came close last year, missing a tie for first by only one stroke. Johnny Goodman, the last of play-for-pleasure boys to win it, is here again, somewhat heavier than he was when he used to terrorize the professionals.

C.N.R. REVENUE UP

MONTREAL (CP) — Increase of $988,233 was reported yesterday by Canadian National Railways in gross revenues of $6,517,376 for the 10 days ended May 31, compared with $5,529,143 for the corresponding period in 1939.
